Lizzie Borden took an axe... The first female monster from Ryan Murphy's famed Anthology series - Monster: The Lizzie Borden Story coming to Netflix September 17.

Super excited for this season after latest monster seasons.

I have to say, I'm not looking forward to this one at all. After what they did with the last season of Monster where they just shit all over the truth and lied over and over again about Ed Gein. It absolutely killed the Monster series for me. <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=6310280>

On top of that, Lizzie Borden series and movies have been done so many times. Also she was found not guilty, there was no evidence that ever linked her to the crimes. Why not do one of a real killer like the Night Stalker.

Yeah considering she didn't even do the murders how is she a "monster"? ?
