Thread: How many of you are in paid discord servers?

Just wondering how many users here are paying for a subscription or have paid for a lifetime membership to a discord server of some sort?

I know these exists for gambling tips, horse races ect. Never been interested in joining them however.

Would love to say I'm active on discord, and would love to have the feeling I used to when it was Skype ect.

Nah I've never paid to join or have expanded access for any Discord server, although a guilty pleasure of mine are game bots like Pokemeow and I've paid for in-game stuff on those bots plenty of times.

Why would anyone pay for something that's free?

Which tele ones were you in? Did you find them worth the subs?

Seems a bit risky paying for lifetime access to stuff like that tbh

I don't, personally. I just don't see what advantages that would provide me, but that's just me.
