Jesus christ no wonder everyone loves it.

I got an american box of snacks from my friend in the mail.

Bugles are absolutely unreal, so are these cheddar filled pretzels like combos.

wtf

Whats your favorite red white and blue snack

I remember when I was on a trip to the Netherlands, I found a box of Twinkies in a small shop and absolutely loved them. However, I later learned that some US versions of Twinkies and other Hostess products can't legally be sold in France and other EU countries because some of their ingredients or additives don't comply with EU food regulations.

It's kinda hard to find compliant versions and when you find them it's like 10€ (12$) for a box of 6 twinkies.

Have never tasted American snacks, as far as I know. But I know they can have funny names.

Twinkies

Wonkys

Twangs

Snugglepops

Yippsiedoodles

(I made up the names of the last four ones ?)

If I'm being honest with myself, Chili Cheese Fritos. I've never really had much of a sweet tooth, even when under the influence, but I definitely have a salt tooth.

You know, I'm actually right there with you lol. While I can't stand fritos, the chili cheese one's are absolutely slammin'.

Yeah why was dude yelling like that, lmao?

These snacks release a lot of dopamine when you eat them because they are filled with artificial ingredients
