Important: Yearly Plans

All yearly plans are provided as recurring monthly subscriptions setup directly on your own account rather than being prepaid for the full year upfront. This is due to the nature of the products and how the subscriptions are billed by the providers.

In the unlikely event that a provider restricts or bans an account during the subscription period, our warranty still applies and we will provide an appropriate replacement/solution or if no solution is found, we will refund the relative amount in store credits to use on. Since these are recurring monthly subscriptions, we do not prepay the entire yearly amount upfront to the provider making neither of us loose money.

How are you delivering 1 year subscriptions?

I'm confused what exactly are you trying to ask.

They're done on your own personal account through the use of regional pricing. They offer discounts primarily if you do whole yearly at once.

Who does? Can you take a screenshot? AFAIK Anthropic and ChatGPT don't let you just subscribe to 5x/20x for a year at a time.

I'm not asking you to compromise what you're offering here but I would like to know more.

Same, interested in the 20x if this proves out

Sorry my bad that I mentioned they there. That's little off to what I was trying to say.

I wanted to say that when I sell you yearly, I make enough to provide you the discounts of that sort. On the same thing, I don't want to be selling monthly to be making very few. Basically higher volume of months equals to greater profits on my side, so is the discount.

Based on my knowledge of these subscriptions, what you or anyone else can provide on a 3-month, 6-month, or year-basis is just as easily done month-to-month.

You can get a (small) yearly discount with Pro for Anthropic ($200/yr instead of $20x12), but not with 5x or 20x Max.

ChatGPT offers no such discount, and you can't go annually except for a Business subscription, for which you mentioned Plus and not Business Standard/Premium

What I'm trying to ask here is how you plan on actually delivering 1 year at a time (per your thread) and not just string someone along for potentially the next 12 months.

I'm not trying to sales trash, but I want to know more before putting all that money on the line. Maybe if you're okay with using a Middleman that's willing to disperse 1/12th of the agreed-upon amount every month?

There's more to just the regional pricing and I'm obviously not going to spill it here, but nothing illegal going around.

The thread primarily mentions 'yearly' upgrade only because you pay me yearly and I put up the amount to run your subscription yearly but technically on the service provider side, it's a recurring payment method but you pay me yearly beforehand so there's money made. As the thread mentions, I provide full warranty because its a recurring payment. If anything happens in between, I get to redo the same or any other account for the remaining months.

And no, I'm not okay with using MM on this providing me 1/12th of the money every month because that's how my profits get cut. And again, that's not what I intend to sell here. The main idea is to make money upfront and string them for 12 months. I don't think people would see that as a problem as long as they don't face any issues with the upgrade, isn't it?

If you're willing to give it a shot, start with a Pro plan that costs relatively a lot lesser than 5x and 20x.

Quote:I'm not asking you to compromise what you're offering Quote:Where are you getting your discounts from?

and I think you're contradicting your own words out there.

I ask you to update your thread to be more clear about what you're offering. You're not delivering 1yr subs. You're delivering 12 sequential monthly subscriptions.

It's categorically different and absolutely worth mentioning; because, it's something people have to agree to.

I'd be interested in Claude 20x, but after reading that it would involve 12 individual upgrades, that seems kinda difficult from a buyer's perspective. Paying everything upfront and then having to trust that each upgrade will work... hm. There's just so much uncertainty.

You have a lot of credibility, so I'm sure you won't just ghost your buyers, but what if Anthropic changes its pricing or significantly increases regional pricing, and you'd have to pay out of your own pocket just to keep your promise?

One year is a long time, and a lot of things can happen. I think I'd personally prefer to pay a few $ more month by month rather than commit for such a long period of time.

Just my thoughts.

I never mentioned 12 individual upgrades. I said 12 months of recurring upgrade. You don't have to come to me every month man. The payment method linked to the account will cover your whole year.

In case of significant price change or a major wipe out of regional pricing accounts, we replace you with new method or provide relative refund accordingly.

Onetapped - August 29, 2026, 2:24 pm

ParanoidAndroid - August 30, 2026, 8:00 am

is the only difference between the personal upgrade account and the Premium Private Account is that one is on my existing account and the other is you provide an account?

Hli4S - August 31, 2026, 2:40 am

I am also interested but I find the 12month one too much.

is there a chance you will offer like 3 or 6 months bundles as well?

Correct, just that difference. And the account I provide is premade but fully private to you. Change password, setup 2FA but don't change the email g!

ParanoidAndroid - August 31, 2026, 10:09 am

Thanks, so personal upgrade is the only way to assure a 3rd party can't log into my account at any time.

Mostly to feel safe though.

However, the premade account is also completely private to you, you can put up the 2Fa aswell so third party doesn't have access to it.
