Thread: How to install remotely a RAT in a phone?

(I am a begginer, sorry if the question sounds dumb). I want to learn how to install remotely a RAT in a second phone. I was thinking to do it through google account which allows to install apps remotely, but I don't think it can work with RAT. What options can you suggest me?

Getting a RAT into the Play Store? Fat chance, especially for someone who isn't an expert Android developer and an expert at hiding code from detection. Just go to sleep and dream about it.

That or ADB are still your best chances, unless you want to pay NSO Group about 3 million NIS. But I don't think that even they can remotely hack Android at present.
