Thread: NEED CS2 Traders, cheap skins signals

!Gambit! - September 8, 2026, 6:24 am

Hey, I'm building SkinRadar, an early CS2 skin-trading tool designed to help active traders find profitable skin opportunities across marketplaces.

It compares exact items and calculates the potential return before you buy, including:

- Item name, StatTrak and wear
- Buy price and estimated exit value
- Fees, estimated net profit and ROI
- Price age, lock context and liquidity data
- Direct links to the relevant marketplace listings

I'm looking for a small group of active CS2 skin traders who buy skins regularly and want to test the platform early.

Testers get free access while the product is in beta for a vouch on my later coming sales post. You do not need to log in with Steam or connect your Steam account to use SkinRadar.

This is still very early, and I'm actively building new features: stronger filters, alerts, more marketplace coverage, better liquidity checks, exact item matching and future wallet-to-cash tools.

I've already used this approach myself to find profitable opportunities, and now I need active traders to test it properly and tell me what would make it more useful.

If you're interested, leave a reply or message me on telegram: @Lassheesh271

- How often you trade skins
- Which marketplaces you normally use
- What you would want most from a tool like this
