Thread: Remote PC control

xconde - September 8, 2026, 4:31 pm

I need help—does anyone know how to take remote control of a PC?
And view its screen?

MadScientist - September 8, 2026, 4:38 pm

Read tutorials on here?

I was going to say enable Remote Desktop but I guess they want more dodgy.

So yeah, go with RATs, you're in the right place.

DramaKing - September 8, 2026, 7:04 pm

TeamViewer exists. There is VNC, too. Specifics on use case would narrow things down a lot. For all we know, you want to help dear old Ma with her laptop.

Good advice, buddy, haha.

Ooh, thank you very much, my friend.

I want to access a computer remotely and control what happens on it without the victim noticing—basically, having full control over the PC.
So, the question is: what do I need and how do I do it?
I need some advice, friends.

This is just one suggestion but Atroposia RAT is sold in the Marketplace and will definitely do what you want. However, it will take a lot of study and work to build a Trojan that people will download and run without being aware.

Which marketplace?

Just out of curiosity, can you get things like that on the deep web?

I was just reminded of this Overlord RAT feature. A free RAT is better for beginners, IMHO.

Quote:2.) "Virtual Mode" which will install and setup a virtual monitor which is basically the same as hvnc except you can see everything, interact with everything and you can get 240 fps. You can also interact with this monitor in remote desktop and you can black out their screen with the new privacy mode.

3.) Privacy mode in remote desktop. Similar to Virtual Mode except no new monitor. This one will black out all monitors and allow you to still see everything.

Oh, and Overlord also has a feature to show a Windows Update-like screen on the monitor for like 20 minutes to hide your activity or something.

Wow, thanks a lot, man; I was looking for a free one.

Thanks for the help, bro.?????

That's interesting, thanks friend. You download just the torrent from the Internet Archive page, right?

Right. Then load the appliance into VirtualBox and start it. If you have trouble, let me know.

I'm so glad you asked. See <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=6325013>. You can also try using an AI agent to do stuff. <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=6331367>

Isn't there a tutorial for that online? It's not that hard to do, but it would be more convenient.?

I know this thread isn't about this topic, but does anyone know if there's a free crypto drainer to start out with as a beginner?

Refrain from discussing Disallowed Blackhat Activity and fraud if you don't want to get banned.

xconde - September 19, 2026, 8:14 am

Okay, I understand.

I won't do it again; I'll be more careful.
