What do we got there, Windows 11 not configured Task Bar.
Brave is the browser?

Claude pinned?
Adobe Aftereffects? It's Adobe something
Store?
Creative Cloud?
Discord (tsk tsk check your notifs or mute servers)
Telegram
WhatsApp
Claude open?
Google Keep?

Not sure on the last two.

3/10, customize your taskbar to remove search box or at least make it the icon, the start button is already the search box.
Also do your updates, good job on having a wired connection.

What's next to Google Keep then?
Is it Google Slides? But that's not Orange?

I can tell it's open, but not sure what, you're also lucky the weather is blurry otherwise location would be leaked.
Looks like freedom units though.

Never underestimate autism, though not freedom units breaks out everywhere but two countries.

I actually haven't used weather in years on Windows, so thought it showed location, my mistake.

Whoever this "Loadedwithcumman" is, he obviously wants you to get diabetes if he is giving you cake. Cake is not meant for human consumption.

I actually don't think I've ever seen an entirely purple cake lol. It's a cool idea for standing out though as I see where it's from is called "Purple Cake Shop". I hope it was delicious and shoutout to loadman for hooking you up!
