

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: Anthropic is building a pre-crime surveillance system to monitor anti-AI activists.

Nikola.4737n - September 10, 2026, 1:11 pm

? loading encrypted image... The American Prospect reports that Anthropic is expanding an intelligence operation to identify, track and investigate threats including activism targeting the AI industry, with systems monitoring protests around executives and company facilities.

The most controversial part is that the system reportedly aims to predict incidents before they happen, with Anthropic already making threat reports to police in some cases.

1111110101 - September 10, 2026, 1:40 pm

Every AI, phone, company, all pushing surveillance, crazy time.

m1000 - September 10, 2026, 2:04 pm

Pretty insane and incredible... as a young person in 2026 we're in for a ride by 2050! These systems are only going to get smarter and quicker.

Dotexe - September 10, 2026, 2:49 pm

Can't wait to see the overall AI hype to go downhill. Companies are trying to build and replace almost anything with AI but that will crash the economy at some point, I already see some companies going to a cheaper model just to afford running the business Imfao

Nikola.4737n - October 9, 2026, 1:04 am

(Sep 10, 2026 01:40 PM)1111110101 Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Every AI, phone, company, all pushing surveillance, crazy time.

Fr, everything is turning into a surveillance system at this point. Privacy is slowly becoming a luxury.

(Sep 10, 2026 02:04 PM)m1000 Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Pretty insane and incredible... as a young person in 2026 we're in for a ride by 2050! These systems are only going to get smarter and quicker.

Honestly, 2050 sounds both exciting and terrifying at the same time. I wonder how much of today's stuff we'll even recognize by then.

(Sep 10, 2026 02:49 PM)Dotexe Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Can't wait to see the overall AI hype to go downhill. Companies are trying to build and replace almost anything with AI but that will crash the economy at some point, I already see some companies going to a cheaper model just to afford running the business Imfao

Yeah, the hype won't last forever. At some point companies will have to prove AI is actually worth the cost instead of just shoving it into everything for the sake of it.