Nikola.4737n - September 11, 2026, 12:12 am

Hello guys, can you please tell me how does the popularity point works in HF and how to increase this?

Sift - September 11, 2026, 2:27 am

Post quality content on the forum and people will notice and pop you.

XtremeDiscount - September 11, 2026, 6:54 am

Post quality is very important, post things that are relevant

Cap - September 11, 2026, 7:45 am

Just be active, help out the community, and be a genuine member.

Deany - September 11, 2026, 7:49 am

Host some giveaways if you really want it fast tbh

Tyr - September 11, 2026, 1:13 pm

Just post around and meet people. We don't bite.

Oh well, Thank you. Is it possible to make much popularity without making much threads? or those are different topics?

Popularity is given to you by other members. It doesn't increase by itself.

Short of hosting a monetary giveaway and requiring people to give you popularity in order to enter, there isn't really a way to fast track getting some. It just comes naturally over time by posting on the site, doing business with others, and providing popularity to others that then maybe give it back. Also, I wouldn't even worry much about popularity as it essentially means nothing. It doesn't equate to being trusted for instance as some newer members may come on here and think. The number that matters more is your credibility and that comes from doing successful contracted deals with other members on here.

How long it takes varies of course, but it's not what I would consider a very difficult hurdle to get over.

Be more active daily, be friendly and a high quality member you will surely build up your popularity.

M1MON - October 3, 2026, 7:07 am

Focus on contributing, popularity will follow.

The Pact - October 3, 2026, 7:14 am

Regarding one of your questions the love heart on a post will increase your bytes rather than your popularity. Bytes are more useful than popularity.

Hmmm for a new member you are doing pretty well with popularity.

Oh yeah it's not even a close comparison. Popularity is really only useful in the way of being a requirement for upgrading to Ub3r. The required amount isn't even high either. Bytes on the other hand have all sorts of different uses and for any member as well as at any given time. Bytes are love. Bytes are life.
