Airpod Pros would be your best bet for battery life, reliability, and warranty. Anything else would be lesser quality in each of those categories

Damn, if you were looking for a full on headset then I could have pointed you towards multiple solid options. I'm not nearly as familiar with earbuds you could use on it though. I will say however that I'm pretty certain Playstation has their own official earbuds you could look into. I'd be willing to bet they're on the pricier side though. Good luck finding a pair that's not too expensive and that you're happy with the quality of!
