That seems like a lot of effort for gambling. At least you have profit.

Ok, you don't need to lie to us lmao, I was just making a joke.

It's not like Claude doesn't make the most obvious to identify front ends in the world. You've got Claude signatures all over your front end + LLM generated text.

At this point I question if you're even 25 years old if you're willing to lie over something so dumb.
