Thread: Now Is The Best Time To Go For The Lounge Head Award!

DemonAsylum - October 11, 2026, 2:29 pm

This is the Lounge Head award. It is earned by making 500 posts in The Lounge section here on HF within a 30 day window. You can see your progress towards this award on the Award Goals page here - <https://hackforums.net/awardgoals.php>

If you don't have the award yet, this month during Octoberfest is the best time to get it. Every year Octoberfest here on HF brings the most activity you'll see in The Lounge section versus the rest of the year. That means more threads to reply to, more posts from others on threads to reply to, and in turn a much easier time working towards the award. Not only that, but Octoberfest brings an award of it's own every year in the form of a pumpkin and that can be earned from similar posting requirements. This means you can kill 2 birds with one stone. Making posts and working towards 2 different awards in the process. Take advantage of this opportunity while you can! Good luck!

Come get your potatoes, free with every pumpkin.

Sift - October 11, 2026, 2:43 pm

Might aswell give it a go.

If you have any interest in getting it whatsoever, take full advantage of this time while Octoberfest is going. It will make it immensely more easily obtained and at a much quicker rate.

Definitely the best period in the year to go for the lounge head award ! Even tho the requirements have been lowered (300 for the Octoberfest, and 500 for the lounge head award)

XtremeDiscount - October 11, 2026, 2:52 pm

Hope you get the reward!

Yeah normally you'd have to go for 500+ posts anyway and so they went hand in hand perfectly. I'm sure no one will be complaining that they only have to do 300 posts for the pumpkin this year though haha. Despite that lower post requirement as well, I imagine the increased activity will still be all throughout most of the month and so those needing to get another 200 posts for Lounge Head can do so much easier all the same.

Lounge head bouncing on your head.

OctoberFest is exactly how I managed to get my lounge head award years ago.

Same exact thing for me and so that's why I push people all the more to do it during this time. If you can work towards 2 awards at once, why wouldn't you? Obviously this is proven to be the best time to go for Lounge Head anyway too.

Yanix - October 11, 2026, 11:36 pm

Yep, this is definitely the best time to grind! I'm hoping to see more new members putting in the effort to earn that Longhead award for their accounts. It's such a great award to have and definitely worth grinding for!

Sift - October 13, 2026, 7:50 am

Lounge head will be mine soon.

Koyote - October 13, 2026, 7:57 am

I forgot about all these things, and it's nice to see people are still going for them!

Aren't you going to join us and chase the Red Pumpkin?

Yin Yang - October 13, 2026, 8:03 am

I remember that grind and getting it!

Eran - October 13, 2026, 8:06 am

Been saying this for years now, never been easier to achieve it!

I doubt it to be honest man, I rarely come on here these days. Most of the people I used to speak to have left or been banned, so I mostly just browse when I'm on now, very occasionally add a post, just to be safe. Hopefully some big project will come up and inspire me to commit some more time and energy here!

We are still here brother, HF isn't quite the same when most of the familiar faces are no longer around. Hopefully, something exciting comes up that brings back your motivation to be active again. Either way, it's always nice seeing you around here!?

Likewise brother! I hope I can find the inspiration, and maybe that sense of community again here!

Hoping for the best brother. It would be great to see that old sense of community come back again. Hopefully, we'll see more familiar faces returning and making HF feel lively again!

You can easily get the lounge head award. You'll have it by the end of the week.

Current status is 80% getting there.

Hern - October 13, 2026, 10:01 am

Did not realize this award until earlier today but it does make sense to try to do both
2 birds with 1 stone

You'll be slamming the lounge with relatable discussions.

Usually yeah, you should have been passively working on it, but Halloween is a great time to do it.
