Dude, just stop. You already have like 12 separate threads here trying to sell your supposed products, and you just joined in late August.

Edit: And you just made a thirteenth separate thread a few minutes ago.

They literally are all separate threads that represent different sale items.

If I'm selling an iPhone and MacBook on ebay, do I add it all onto 1 sales post? Be so for real.

And, the only one breaking the rules, is you. By sales trashing.
