Let's just say that EVLF was banned from HF for good reasons. Pretty sure that he dualhooked the official version. Anyway, it's so old now that it's really a moot point. Just use something that works on devices that people actually use.

old old but iyt got a update not long ago!! its still maintain and for what my friend told me it work pretty good. itsn ot worst than buying btmob source code from the market and end with reseller of reseller who backkdoored it. we found laready 3 reseller who backdoor and resell it cheap and 2 have been taken down. but i agree with the point, better run simple reverse shell than use some garbage like this that will end to cosr you more to can actually use it on people device than buy a decent one with crypted and stuff lol.

But i got to ask, crax and all those are not from the same dev as btmob?? i heard crax btmob and eagle i thinkare from the same dev, is that true?? they all look so damn similar, same gui, same functio etc

EVLF is quite a prolific [censored]. Not sure about Eagle, but he's behind Craxs, BTMOB, Cellik, and maybe Spyroid or Spynote.
