Thread: I'm addicted to Convo

Convo has been down for days now and I think I'm going crazy. I keep checking to see if it's back like it's going to magically resurrect itself while I'm not looking. Open HF. Refresh. Still down. Close it. Come back. Refresh. Still down. Repeat for idk how many times already. Is this what they call withdrawal symptoms?

It will in fact magically resurrect itself when you are not looking.

I would feel more this way about forums than any live chat.

HAHAHA I can see that. It's crazy always seeing you everywhere on the forum, but I haven't seen you active on chat even once. You'd probably have a much worse withdrawal symptoms if it was the forum lol.

Gotta shoutout, thanks to this post i found my way into chatwee

Convo is definitely missed. Best to get comfortable though because it's looking like it will be a few weeks at least before we see it return. On the bright side we have Chatwee in the meantime and when convo does return it will be fully rebuilt and better than ever.

I'll do $300 just to keep silence and spare myself out of the unnecessary hackergaym spiel. 2%?
As-if. More like "teach an AI how to jump into a lake and you'll receive a roasted fish for lunch."
