Mine is a big bowl of pasta and a show I've seen a dozen times. Nothing new needed. What do you reach for on a bad day?

Don't really have a go to food really but pasta/rice and some meat and a show I really like is the perfect solution.

It will always be some Chipotle for me.

Ewww chipotle, I've never been a fan of it myself. Not too sure why though.

Don't really have comfort food or a comfort show. I do watch animes that I get in the mood for though.

I like to turn on Seinfeld, It's Always Sunny in Philadelphia or South Park when I feel like having something on in the background. Don't really have a comfort food, kinda like those cups of campbells soups.
