What the title says.

For me, it was Gran Turismo 7 on PS5. I realized too late that I'm not a big fan of these games.

Call of Duty black ops 6 and 7.

My friends got me into the hype of ashes of creation. $200 alpha/beta pack later and the game never even came out.

Black Ops 1 and 2 still hold the record to be honest but I really liked the old mw3.

yeah, I remember that. I'd say "evil corporate" right away, but actually this case was more complicated than that. It's sad for the people losing their jobs yeah.. although the old MW2 must be the best CoD in general. I can't get over this game, I still play it every once in a while.

it's actually bad when you get too hyped about something. I don't know if GTA 6 is going to feel the same, like "okay yeah, its cool but I expected more". Idk

I hated MW2019, Infinity Ward introduced this new dogshit SBMM system and Activision accepted it.

MW3 was eh, I didn't care too much about it. I believe the last good cod was BO4.
