I first heard about this movie a few months ago, there were news articles about how parents thought this was a children's movie when it actually was a horror film. Imagine a demonic child killer Barney. Kids are stuck in make believe world and Buddy the magical unicorn star of the show goes crazy and begins killing off the entire cast. This movie is cheesy as all hell, it's probably meant to be a B movie, low production value but all of that made this such a fun watch.

I think if anyone is looking for a new horror movie to watch this year for Halloween season, and doesn't have high expectations, give this movie a watch. I give it a 7/ 10 just because of the originality. Just be prepared it's pretty dumb.

I was really interested into watching this movie, it's on my watchlist, but not available yet in french dub, only VOSTFR and French Quebec, not international french

Yes. I am so excited to see this movie, I love the ads they made for it. Really caught my attention. I wonder how it's all going to come together

Honestly it was pretty unique i thought it was different

I could see them doing a few more Buddy movies. feel like it has potential to be a new cult character in horror like Art the Clown with Terrifier series
