What is everyone drinking today?

Jinu - October 15, 2026, 7:02 am

I'm having a nice iced coffee to fuel my writing session. How about you?

Bought a Monster can so I can fizzle pop in my monster truck and get called "A monster" by all the old ladies in wheelchairs strolling to the supermarket in recyclable bags. Finish the night with a bottle of Hendrikson's and tomorrow going to the liquor store for wine. Yes, I know it's cheap and that the label costs more than the squeezed contents, but honestly paired with fish and a decent amount in the system should get quite a kick.

I really need to get more into TEA

I know some that get a tea subscription and are able to try all kinds of different blends each month.

Yeah be careful there, I have heard the subscriptions and different blends can get VERY expensive. It is basically his hobby in itself.
