I purchased a two-month promotional offer, but the software turned out to be unusable. The developer made no effort to improve it, and has since stopped responding to my messages.

The contract says $0 xmr? Why would you not put the price you are paying on the contract or is there something I am missing?

Not sure why my comment got deleted.

The contract is invalid based on the contract itself, it says you're supposed to pay $0.00.

Ignore the others. Price is listed in the thread which linked to the contract. Contract is valid.

Tbh sometimes when I try to create a contract and change the amount it shows $0.00 for me too, even though I'm entering the amount correctly.

There might be a bug. It would be good if Omni could take a look at it.
