What's a completely legal, slightly weird thing you do to save money that would make most people think you're crazy? I wash and reuse Ziploc bags, and I cut my own hair. It saves a fortune but I hide it from my friends. Share your best penny-pinching secrets.

I save those plastic food containers you get at like chinese food places or whatever
I mean why not... you can wash em and reuse so no harm in saving them

I always plan my meals for the week ahead.
It helps me save money and avoid buying unnecessary groceries.

Whenever I make a large order I save the big brown boxes as storage for my model kits.

Nice idea. You are saving yourself some money by doing that. Plus, it's way better for the environment.
