thanks,its working???

Karke - April 7, 2009, 10:47 pm

I think AVG 8.5 is better ;]

Errr...with all due respect Avast is lame(It can be easily cracked, which proves that it isn't much of a protection, but it is just my own notion),Kaspersky is better.

lilsnoop - April 7, 2009, 11:06 pm

I agree, i love kaspersky :D

Avast has like 100's of keygens. Really easy to get. But thanks for the effort! =)

Karke - April 7, 2009, 11:09 pm

Yea, kaspersky is the best damn anti-virus program... But! I cant find a serial key for the new Kaspersky... Can some1 send it to me? ;) I would be very thankful! ;]

Correct me if i'm wrong, but it seems that kaspersky will not have one specific serial, as each 'serial' i've came across has had an expiry date on it, pain in the arse. id like to use it too, but most seirals are blacklisted.

Thank you for these..

Avast is very user friendly/plesant to use.

I'm talking about Kaspersky Internet Security

Because i got tired of looking for new keys after the other, I decided to use the trial version. Works fine. But i think a solution for restarting trial version is making a program change the computer's Id. Because I reformatted then as I used the trial again, I got the 30days. Just need a way to do it without reformatting. :P

Oh and if you want some serials(avast) which doesn't have days left or whatsoever here:

I'm not sure though if it is the one's with no days left thing.. I think i deleted it.

Oooh and I heard you could mix up Avast and Mcaffe...is this true??

DYSfunkTIONAL - April 8, 2009, 3:23 pm

i cant install kaspersky because i had norton and mcafee installed before and kasperskys says i have to uninstall it first even tho i have!!and iv seen just as many keygens for kaspersky aswell anyway i love avast,its the tits!
