I wanted to buy a jtag so I could host some free lobbies and do system links for HF, but someone had to scam me. I saw x420 is Pro's thread about how he's selling jtags so I asked to buy one after seeing vouches and good feedback. I PMd him and I eventually bought it. He said he would give my shipping info in 2 days. After 2 days I asked him for the tracking info and he told me he didn't ship it yet, but on his thread he said he shipped it to me just so he can get more customers to scam. I sent him numerous PMs and he is just ignoring them. Another member he scammed for a jtag also PMd me asking me if I got my jtag, and I said no. Here's a link to the other member that got scammed <https://hackforums.net/member.php?action=profile&uid=173906>

It would be great if HF could ban this member to prevent others from getting scammed in the future. I have proof in my PMs if a moderator would like to check them.

Thank you

What you used to pay dear.

I hope you get your money back.

Suggestion-a short story about what happened.

I charged back on PP, and Travy did too(the other member that got scammed).

Thanks

EDIT: I disputed on PP. I didn't charge back, I thought they were the same.

He's legit, I bought a 1 year code from him.

Unless he recently became a scammer, he was legit.

Unless he recently became a scammer, he was legit.I'm not sure, but maybe he thought he would scam, then leave HF. That's what Unrated did to me when I tried to buy a jtag.

Yeah Unrated is another one...

What the hell is going on? All these JTag's and Apple scams...

Yeah he scammed me for $175, and has blocked communication with me.

Although I didn't do my trade via PM, I did it through AIM so I don't have the logs.

Here is proof I sent $175 to him though
