Just go download it from Download.com, then mail me for a serial. Much safer.

Download Setup from Avast.com and use the License included in my Download if you don't trust me.

I prefer Nod32, it has a pretty good firewall that you don't need to mess around with. It doesn't ask you what to block and what not to block, it's always made the right decisions for me. If you want to use something such as an RAT then you can disable filtering.

*Comodo Firewall - Free <http://personalfirewall.comodo.com/index.html>

Phrenic - April 25, 2009, 7:38 am

Apart from the fact that Comodo alerts you about shit, where Nod32 firewall doesn't need to alert you about anything.
