Hey

I don't if this will be helpful but when I download youtube to mp3 I use this program thats from a site called www.dvdvideosoft.com. It can let you just put the link of the video in the box and when your done adding all the links, it will download it.

I know you said automatically but thats the best I know of.

I'm pretty certain you can't do this. You'll just have to individually get the channels.

Tbh, this would be a pretty cool feature in a youtube downloader, download all mp3s in a channel, but unfortunately it hasn't been done yet.

Kinda have kept this secret to myself. Well, maybe it's not a secret but if you want to see an easy and great way to download songs to mp3 fast try using dirpy.com. It's fast, easy and might help you with your task. Hope that helped.
