No lol. I have used this program before and it was awesome like a couple of years ago before all the security measures facebook now takes. It basically just add's multiple member's from the popular group of your choice, however unless the most recent version of this has taken steps to surpass all the security measures such as 'captcha' then I don't recommend this.

legoman - October 27, 2010, 3:37 pm

Alba Gu Brath is correct Facebook up all there security so you cant spam the hell out of people for marketing its against the law and a bloke called adam guerbuez was fined a billion dollars for doing it just Google him and you will find out so if ya want to be sued go right ahead but I guarantee you now this program will not work
