So who would but a HF wristband?

Thinking of buying some in and selling them on HF. Perhaps in bulk and then post them off to America to start off with. Or USB wristbands?

Well let me know, perhaps you have some other ideas of what you guys want or would buy?

nitrateoxide - November 6, 2010, 6:20 pm

Sounds interesting, if it had hf all over it, you'd probably need omni's consent. Also what is usb wristband?

Ag3nt - November 6, 2010, 6:20 pm

USBs would be more fit to be sold from this site, Id buy one but Im in canada

Nick™ - November 6, 2010, 6:43 pm

I'm pretty sure you'd have to ask omni because he owns the name.

Lith - November 6, 2010, 6:44 pm

Imagine how nerdy this would be.

WhiteFlame - November 6, 2010, 6:44 pm

Yeah I was going to ask Omni first ofc but don;t want to PM him before I know if anyone would actually buy it :P

Well its like well here is what they look like:

It just a usb thats easy to carry around Waterproof and stuff with HF logo or just says HF.

Haha, it's very nerdy but this site is crawling with them/us :L

I would probably buy one if they were only like $5 each...

Maybe you can do 2 kinds?

One that says "HackForums.net" in purple/black and another that says "Hacker" in black and dark grey or something.

Mankey - November 7, 2010, 11:05 am hmm If you want i can help you with this cause i'll be honest with you i had the same idea before but i'm not really well known on this site :x The usb wrist bands are a great idea though. Maybe have them preinstalled with like usb theif or something xD mambugaw - November 7, 2010, 11:06 am

I would buy it, make some HF tee shirts too...maybe backpacks?

Arrogance - November 7, 2010, 11:12 am

If this idea was performed, it'd be under Omniscient hands, basically for the profit and because of selling under HackForums name.

Yeah, I'm thinking I will have to talk with him a lot about the profit and stuff. But I mean if it makes a bit of money for HF too then thats pretty cool :)

Well into this idea though. Also I like the USB theif idea but I know people will acuse me of trying to steal from them because it came with USB theif on it... I would rather leave in original packaging :)

Wristbands would definately be under $5 so sounds like it could be a good plan :)

Right, guess I will get talking to Omni now :)

WhiteFlame - November 7, 2010, 12:59 pm

Here is from Omni:

Code I don't need partners to do this myself. So no thanks.

Looks like its a no then :P

Might just go ahead with thinks branded with "Hacker" or something similar?

Dr?am - November 7, 2010, 1:02 pm

Can't you still do this because it's YOUR product your selling?

I'd be interested in the wristbands.

Hmm I'm actually not too sure about the legality of it all. I will have to look into it a bit more. But I mean what would you buy with another message?

Mankey - November 7, 2010, 4:07 pm

Well if you offered a varity of messages like quotes or something other then hacking (you can have hacking as well too) then it'll be nice

nitrateoxide - November 7, 2010, 4:13 pm

YEah that's a great point Mankey has made btw, Hacking quotes, or quotes in general i'd buy for sure.

AbstracT™ - November 7, 2010, 4:44 pm

This would be bad ass. I would buy some.

Mankey - November 7, 2010, 7:21 pm

If you like i can always help you with it. I may not look like the most trusted person in here but hey, everyone starts somewhere xP

I'd be interested in the wristbands. It would actually be not legal because he'd be selling under HackForums name without Omniscient's permission.

That's incase that in the wristbands or USB sticks the name written was HackForums, so forget about that name, think about any other good names and start selling.
