Thread: Bears beat Vikings; Who is the best in the NFC? AFC? NFL?

You can keep saying the Vikings are better than the Bears if it makes you feel better, but the Bears killed them. They're a huge disappointment, almost as bad as the Cowboys who had a huge win yesterday afternoon over the Giants.

So, in your opinion, who is the best team in the NFC; The Falcons, The Giants, The Bears, The Packers, The Eagles, The Saints, or even the Buccaneers?

I would name the AFC but I would have to name almost every team over there, lots of great teams. And then what about the entire NFL? A slew of great teams this year, has all the makings of an interesting playoff race.

My picks: AFC - Patriots, NFC - Eagles, NFL - Patriots

Eagles and the Patriots for sure, did you see the eagles last night?

Yeah, they are insane. I'd bet that Michael Vick is the best quarterback in the league. He's such a weapon, crazy good, I have no clue how a defense prepares to play him.

lol the bears won because hester put them in good field position everytime the vikings punted. the vikings were messed up by the grass field but i don't count that as an excuse. the bears are nowhere near the best team in NFC. the NFL has been so up and down this year you can't really say one team is the best like years ago the Colts and patriots were the first that came to mind unfortunately.

BTW; I know it's weird I randomly mentioned the Bears in this thread, I did that because I'm a Bears fan and was tired of the people saying the Vikings were better. They are NO WHERE near the best team in the NFC, they have too many problems and are too inconsistent.
