Thread: great problem with hacking emails !

?Night - November 16, 2010, 6:17 am

hi people

yesterday , i tried to hack an email (hotmail) , i changed the password as usual , but i couldt do the same thing with the alternat email because it asks me to confirm the delet request on the alternate email !!

can u find a way to delete this email without confirming !! because i will not be able to hack anymore any ideas ??

Why are you posting this thread again, Hotmail made the feature for a reason like this.

The only way is that you hack the Alternate Email aswell. No other option. It's a good safety feature which Hotmail pulled out of their past experiences.
