Blue Screen of Death - November 22, 2010, 10:06 am

I just made a tool to scan random ip's and to ping them.

Every scan is made in 5 seconds... So... 12 ip/minute or maybe more...

Stop the scanning by pressing Stop fast for 2-3 seconds.

All ips are written in c:/ip.txt followed by their state:

"Timed Out" or "Succes"

This tool is useful for bored people to scan random people from internet and try to hack them.

Please do not Flame.

No idea why some avgs detect the file as malware...
anyway have fun with it.

I don't believe I'll have much use for this, but nonetheless, I've downloaded It and all seems clean thus far.

It's also compatible with Windows 7 In the x64 architecture.

Thanks mate.
