Omega's Ultimate Money Making Guide

Are you tired of looking at phony ways to make money online? Tired of those "exclusive methods" that require large investments in advertising, just so you can turn a profit? Well, here is my Ultimate Money Making Guide, for beginners.

Freelance Writing

Earning: $15 to $100 a day, depending on skills and time spent.

Time: 1 hour or more a day, depending on how long you take to write.

Investment: Just your time.

Difficulty: Easy " Medium.

Payment frequency: Depends on which site you work on.

Freelance writing is probably one of the simplest and fastest ways to make money on the Internet. The only thing you need is a computer and a reasonably solid English vocabulary. Don't worry no need to have professional writing skills. Most of the content you would be writing is promotional articles for products that will be sold over the internet. Most of these articles are written at 8 grade level, in order for them to be easily understood by anyone visiting the web site. Another great tip, you may search articles and rewrite them and then submit. Please do not plagiarise people's work.

Here are some of the sites I recommend that you start with:

Associated Content- (www.associatedcontent.com)

GoArticles (www.goarticles.com)

Ezine articles (www.ezinearticles.com)

TextBroker (www.textbroker.com)

For Associated Content, something to note is that you shouldn't bother with proxies, as the rules just state that you need to be a citizen of the US, but can live anywhere in the world. Just put any valid US address during registration.

US Addresses can be obtained from (www.fakenamegenerator.com)

Selling PLR Article Packs

Earning: $30 to $100 a day or more.

Time: 2 to 4 hours a day.

Investment: Just your time.

Difficulty: Medium.

Payment received: Instantly.

Another way to make money is by writing or rewriting articles or by selling a pack of articles, probably around 10 on webmaster and marketing forums like Digital Point (forums.digitalpoint.com) and the Warrior Forum (www.warriorforum.com).

PLR- Private Label Rights “ Giving the client the ability to resell or use the info on a website.

eBay Dropshipping

Earning: $20 to $100 a day.

Time: Half an hour-2 hours a day.

Investment: No upfront money needed.

Difficulty: Easy.

Payment received: Instantly.

Dropshipping is simply putting an item on eBay that you are buying from somewhere else at a lower price. Once your item is sold, you buy the item from the dropshipper and have them deliver it directly to the buyer. You get to keep the difference as profit and never have to handle merchandise yourself. This can be done with almost anything online aswell. From Steam accounts to software. Just find the right buyer and seller.

Offline/Online Cash Method- Websites for businesses

Earning: $25 to $100 a day.

Time: 2 “ 3 hours a day, depending on amount of clients.

Investment: Advertising Offline.

Advertising: $0 to $100 Offline.

Difficulty level: Medium - Advanced

Payment frequency: Right away when website is completed.

Offline- Many small businesses are willing to pay for a website. Place ads in the local paper, or even go door to door. Advertising costs quite a lot, but if you want it enough, you should reach the number of clients needed to make a profit.

Online- A lot of people online are willing to pay for a website. You can place ads on classifieds sites such as Craigslist, Kijiji or BackPage.

Once a client is found, you can charge anywhere from $20-50 depending on the clients needs. Make sure to ask them for media (Photos or Videos) they want to be displayed, and it’s always good to get the contact info.

All you need to make the website are some simple web design skills and some site templates. Google is your best friend here, or, if the client is rolling out the big bucks, you can buy packs of templates for as little as $2 on TradeBit (www.tradebit.com).

Once your site is finished, register a domain name at GoDaddy.com. Domains with .com are usually $10, but searching Google to find “GoDaddy coupons” can lower the price.

For webhosting, a bannerless free site such as ByetHost (www.byethost.com). Then give the client the login details and there we have it.

GPT Sites

Earning: $1 to $35 a day.

Time: 1-2 Hours a day, gradually getting lower and lower.

Investment: Just your time.

Advertising: Youtube/Forums

Difficulty: Very Easy- Easy
Payment Frequency: Instantly to a couple of weeks.
GPT- Get paid to.
PTC- Paid to click.

So weâ€™ve all heard of prizerebel etc. but which ones are really going to pay you, and give you the most out of your time? Heres a list of sites I would recommend, but first let me explain how GPT sites work.

GPT sites basically gives you advrtisements/offers to complete which they pay you for. They make money by the site paying them for recruiting people to do there offers. There are many different types of offers including Free, CC Required, Payment Required, and Regional Only (e.g. US only).

Here are some good sites:

PrizeRebel (www.prizerebel.com) Offers
NeoBux (www.neobux.com) PTC/Instant Payment
Rewards1 (www.rewards1.com) Offers
Scour (www.scour.com) Search Engine (Paid to search)
Blackhat Scour (http://#.com/files/137204967/Scour_2.3.7.rar.html)

This bot does Scour searches for you! The scour search limit is 100 day (for points) so just go into settings.ini and put your user and pass in, aswell change the number of searches to 100. Credits to unknown.

Getting Referrals-

Referrals are important in having succsess with GPT sites. Make a convincing Youtube video showing some payments, or if your starting, look for paypal account pictures on Google Images. You might also want to look up GPT forums and post your referral link there.

If you used a method, ?

Special Thanks to Tony Vercetti ?

Thanks for reading my guide, I hope you make some money.

Bye for now,

Nice Omega ?

One bad point not in your post , but on PTC sites .. why the hell 0.01$ cent ? Oo
We wanna make money , and they give us 0.01 cent -_- ?
I'm gonna test freelance writing one way to perform English more and more ?

Thank's again

Awesome, Im gonna try the eBay Dropshipping method. Any ideas on what would be good?

-----(-. ???g? .)------ - June 15, 2009, 2:57 pm

Thanks for all the comments guys. Ummm, anything really. Try find a seller and buyer that are semi close to you, just so the buyer doesn't get annoyed. I recommend large items that will make you a profit. Xbox's are a great one, people on eBay have no idea how low things get. Try find Hot deals, even other things on eBay. Try this website, for Hot Deals. <http://www.daycheap.com/>

Have fun and good luck.

You dont need any money. What you do is, find an item thats on sale or really cheap somewhere for say $100, its a computer hard-drive. Now, sell that item on eBay. Recieve the money on eBay, send it to the seller, tell the seller the shipping details of your buyer and bob's your uncle. Have fun.

Thanks for this ! on ebay isnt there a new rule where you get the item first and dont recieve payment straight away though ? could still work though just get them to send it to the person thats buying it off you then the person sends you money .. then you send it to person your buying off it confuses me haha im going to give it a go though this is the best tutorial ive seen on here for making money

Thanks for all the comments guys, once again. There are, but they are kind of a scam. I used them and I felt they were a slow, inefficient means of making money.

@BarzOrr

This is a good example, took him 3 weeks of waiting after around 30minutes input using the dropshipping technique to make $90. Imagine what you can do with 2Hours input.

Depends on what kind of Traffic you are able to bring.

I don't want to sneak in to Omega's thread here. But I would be interested for the right traffic.

You should post this information in any case, so everyone can know. :)

..... "Omega", quoting your statement:... 'There are, but they are kind of a scam. I used them and I felt they were a slow, inefficient means of making money.'

Although I am new on this board here, I have been around since 1993 running legit biz's online. Including a fairly new project right now that I believe in, and everything I did and do for it is white hat. I have always either generated my own traffic and or paid for traffic, and paid well and fast - i.e. nearly instant the moment I have sufficient stats [quota].

You may ask what I am doing in here - well, one is never done learning.

But have always made my money the straight and honest way. But this time, I am up against a huge project, that takes more than one person.

Am not promoting my project here in YOUR thread - just want to say, that there are some legit, honest and well paying sites existing. I am one of them.

I opened your post BECAUSE of the 'honest' work methods you described :):):)

-----•(• ???g? •)•----- - June 18, 2009, 11:14 pm

Rascal, thanks for posting. Trafficking sights never seem to get a good rep, I haven't tried many, so many my im slightly one-sided. PM me about the project, as I want to see what your getting at.

rascal - June 19, 2009, 2:04 am

Omega,

thanks for posting back. I need to clarify = I am NOT a trafficking site, I am looking for legit traffic [lot's of real eyeballs], and that is what I meant, I always paid and made a good deal for both parties, the one that supplies the traffic and my own site [s].

That was the reason for me to ask what kind of traffic 'Ecliptix' was talking about.

I have always preferred to do business with individuals rather than obscure companies that tout their own horn.

I will pm you.

Should really type your name correct: Î©MEGA :):):)

Thanks for all the comments guys.

You don't need any money. What you do is, find an item that's on sale or really cheap somewhere for say $100, its a computer hard-drive. Now, sell that item on eBay. Receive the money on eBay, send it to the seller, tell the seller the shipping details of your buyer and bob's your uncle. Have fun. Hi there, thanks for your ultimate guiding, but about eBay dropping, when I start selling an item, they charge a small fee cost of putting the item on eBay. For example, I sell Wii console + accessories with 555$, ebay charge me 3.5$ for initial, and if the item is sold, they will charge final fee. So I don't think we don't need any money. Any ideas?

-----•(• ???g? •)•----- - July 18, 2009, 7:56 pm

Use another technique to get $3, shouldn't take you long at all. Thanks for the comments peeps.

Vegetto - July 18, 2009, 9:29 pm

The problem here is not $3, it is whether I am able to sell the item I want to sell. If after 7 days no one buy the item. So I'll lost $3. This methods still get a small risk and we have to think if our item's price is reasonable or not. The site that you offer before (DayCheap) is a great one. Maybe I'll try to sell 1 item to test!

PtP Devour - September 18, 2009, 7:25 am

I laughed at some of this. You make it sound as if a few of these are cake.

Ebay dropshipping is anything but easy. Have you done this yourself? seriously...

First off you have to find a product that sells well on ebay...if it dont then there is no point in searchin for it. Second you gotta find a dropshipper that sells the item at a price you can make a profit with. Now making a profit is pretty fuckin hard anymore for smaller items just cause ebay and pay.pal take there cut from your sale. You will be looking for a long ass time and maybe never find something to dropship cuz of no profit to fund your little bus. you got going.

All the commercials for ebay that you see on tv make its sound simple lol.

People who powersell on ebay are ones who have amazing connections or the ability to buy in bulk. They cut out the middleman in the equation (Dropshipper) which always takes more of your money. So far you have Ebay fees, pay.pal fees, and dropshipping. Not to mention using drop shipping means that you the seller never get to see what is being sent to your customer, in which may return as a negative feed back.

Excellent thread love it thnx man.

Sky_King - September 26, 2009, 6:10 am

Otterpop! You can do anything when you're 15! I started when I was 15, made 100$ in a week and got it :D

And seriously, whatever you do, do not, I repeat do not use PTC or GPT (?) sites as they suck.

Awesome! Thnks bro! ?

buba4ko - October 3, 2009, 3:16 pm

Well Omega did summarize a good article about getting some money from internet and the different ways for doing that.

Still some of those methods need a lot more explaining for someone to get them and start using them. I can honestly say that i am in the dropshipping business from a year and it is hard hard hard work. I have gone through many ups and downs and i have learned a lot of valuable lessons about dropshipping and ebay selling. I have created myself a list of dropshipping websites that i have worked or still work with some of them, i also have numerous monthly subscriptions to paid listings for dropshipping websites.

I can tell you the business of selling on Ebay is tough and the margins are low due to the huge competition. You still can make money even if you are a simple dropshipper but you will have to do an @ss load of work researching the right product in the right niche.

I can only put good words for Omega for his efforts in outlining those methods to earn some money online.

To those interested in dropshipping & selling on Ebay and some advices on it i am willing to share along with few sample dropshipping websites not for money but for knowledge.

What i am interested in learning and i would gladly share my experience in dropshipping is email spam and ways to get thousands of local or global email addresses to help market various of products that i sell online.

Here is a bit of freebee from me to keep this thread even more interesting:

Google is a great source for finding anything you can start looking for your dropshipping website from the payed ads or the natural search results. The first step you should do is find Dropshippers and most of the good ones will tell you whats hot selling. All you need to know about a product is if it sells well! Right?? You then find a hot selling item that you like, then search for the same item on Ebay in the COMPLETED LISTINGS SEARCH, that way you know if it sells or not, and how much money it goes for, giving you a "Retail" Benchmark price.

It doesn't matter if you have competition as you always will, it comes down to how well you market the item and how much you can undercut your competitors.

When you pick Dropshipper do not trust him right away. Research about him if there are some negative opinions...look for the words "SCAM" and "FRAUD" if you see them run away and never look back at that dropshipper. Also a dropshipper that doesn't offer PayPal and/or CC payments is 99% fraud and you do NOT want to do any business with such websites.

GL to all///Anyone with knowledge about email spamming and email obtaining PM me i can share more info about dropshipping and ebay selling and some trusted dropshipper lists.

buba4ko - October 4, 2009, 3:21 am

I would like to contribute to this topic too with several other methods of earning money online.

Mturk projects - www.mturk.com

Earning: $5 to $30 a day.

Time: 2-6 hours a day.

Investment: No upfront money needed.

Difficulty: Easy.

Payment received: few days to release money to your account and around a week to receive them to your bank account.

Mturk projects are easy depending on their complexity, Example projects could be to tag given pictures with a certain word, or to pick from a pack of pictures one that describes the best a certain criteria, or to write articles, or to describe particular places, or translating from one to another language and many more ranging from $0.10 to $20-$30 rewards and the time it takes you to complete each task can vary from seconds to several hours for the most expensive ones.

Requires to have US address and in order to cash out you need to have someones US bank account to send the money to him and then transfer them to your account. NO minimum payout but due to the bank taxes associated with transfers you would want to cash out once you have bit more cash in your account

Stock Photography - www.istockphoto.com

Earning: $0 to $500 a day. greatly depends on your photography skills and photography equipment and time invested.

Time: 1 - 4 hours a day.

Investment: You can start out with whatever camera you have greater than 4MP in resolution but i will advise if you can to get yourself some cheap DSLR camera like Canon 350D which one i have.

Difficulty: Normal.

Payment received: twice monthly. Minimum cash out $50.

You need to have some basic photography knowledge and a great passion to take pictures. You need to think commercially when shooting pictures and have in mind that the pictures you take must be consumer oriented like pictures of emotions of people, or pictures of particular objects. Once you sign in you will have to go through not so easy photography test to be accepted.

Lloyd X - October 7, 2009, 11:38 am

How much are you making a week Omega? And what methods to you use

-----•(-• ???g? •-)•----- - October 7, 2009, 1:30 pm

Eh. I have a part time job in real life. On the internet I made around $1,000 a month by working a lot writing articles for Text Broker. To make $1,000 a month, 5-6 good articles per day is maybe just enough. Im quite happy with what I can earn atm unless there is a big new guide that promises heaps I will not do anything else on the net. I have schooling, sports, work, a social life all to manage. These guides are really just if you are in your teens, unable to find a job, or need money sent to a Paypal account.

P.S.

Welshhhyyyyyyyyyyyyyy. I cant believe it man. Your already at 1333 posts? I remember when you were at 100 hahaha. Hey man, PM me and we can catch up =)

Lloyd X - October 8, 2009, 12:05 pm

? your doing well ? also... How does Text Broker pay? I might join (if they pay to UK)

And lol im a teen, i dont make much online, used to make $100+ per month with adsense, but i took down, thinking of starting a new site ?

And yeah i know ? im known on here now ?
I tried adding you on msn btw ?
and yeah i will PM you whenever ?

Datajunkie - October 9, 2009, 2:12 am

LOL this is cool I might just sit down and try this all one day and see what happens...

miketh2005 - October 9, 2009, 1:39 pm

I got approved for text broker. They only accept US residents. I took about a week or 2. Wrote an article and got $1.54. I have a writer rating of 3. Both my evaluation test and my paid article got 3 stars. I missed a comma and put a ":" instead of a "." one place.

-----•(• ???g? •)•----- - October 9, 2009, 6:49 pm

They also judge you on the content of the piece.

miketh2005 - October 10, 2009, 11:41 am

Omega, I did a article in Text Broker. It was asking me to explain how LAN networking works with some game. So I did it and got approved and everything. So I'm looking for more offers and all I can find are silly stuff. Example:

Chosen keyword:

I require one article of 220-250 words. Each article must contain all Keywords at least 3 times. USB flash drives, promotional flash drives, branded flash drives.

Client Instructions:

Quote:I require one article of 220-250 words. Each article must contain all Keywords at least 3 times. There needs to be a title to the article that is a question/solution for example 'It is dark in the room so I turned the light on'

When requesting plurals in our articles we need the plural term used. For example if we put the word Hampers in the keywords we can not accept an article with the phrase Hamper.

WTH does this freakin mean??? I'm not the type of writer than can write about just anything with some keywords I have to include. This is ridiculous! They aren't SPECIFIC. For example, I can write about a particular game, how it works, how it operates, review it, etc. But when they just want keywords in an article it's too hard for me. Are these the types of articles you do? Maybe I should try a different site...

lol, hey man, did you know your thread is being put on other forums and blogs and stuff, probably without your permission? <http://techans.wordpress.com/>

You just have to write what they ask you. Dw, more requests will come up. And yes, my guide is used a lot without credits. What am I to do? Well, when the time comes, Ill contact a lawyer, see what I can do.

Valour - October 11, 2009, 4:32 am

hey u could also include PTC sites

i m just unknown to legit PTC sites

i had many site which gave 100$ to just register and 50$ per mail read but once i just klik on gold cash out and as wan't a gold member i lost all the money

so i want some PTC sites from you please i think you ate the biggest earner online !!

buba4ko - October 11, 2009, 9:58 am

Omega care to explain why you wont add free (non affiliated) methods to your list? I have proposed them to you to make your topic better you could add them as your own just get them there so that people get to know few other methods of earning money.

This topic is about giving away right? I am not profiting from any of the methods so why you decline ?

Please explain.

Miketh, maybe you should dedicate more time or just simply suck it up and write the clients wishes.

miketh2005 - October 16, 2009, 10:04 am

THE CLIENTS WISHES ARE STUUUUUUPID! I've never seen such silly requests, it seems its just spam, since its all over the site, and I don't think they will pay since it looks like spam. KEYWORDS? wth? i know that has something to do with google search indexing and SEO marketing whatever, but i came to the site to WRITE ARTICLES ABOUT STUFF not MARKET, and half the stuff isnt in the right section, i mean, trucks are in technology, wth?

-----(-. ???g? .-)----- - December 2, 2009, 10:40 pm

Ive been hearing a lot of Scour questions and in-short, Scour is legit. There is no way you could use Scour to make heaps of money (unless your crazy with refferals), It's more about replacing your search engine with Scour, and yeah, maybe in 6 months time you'll have enough for a $25 visa from just using as you would your normal search engine.

EDIT: Aww, you cant +rep me :(

Alright so for eBay dropshipping... Do you buy the product with your money or do you use the money you get from the person you are selling the product to?

You use the buyers money and just have the product shipped directly to them. If you use your own money you could run into an issue of someone backing out on you last min leaving you stuck with the product.

I have done that, but they reject your articles quite often (even though I'm a very good writer) and also you get paid per 1000 visitors or sth... so it takes quite a while to reach any payout. ?

These are good methods for making good money. There is also website flipping which I have made some good money doing.

However I am a freelance writer and have just finished a step by step guide for anyone to be able to duplicate my earnings, from zero dollars to more then two-thousand a month from writing.

Freelance writing actually works if you get the right jobs! Just watch to avoid the scam sites that will only pay you a dollar or two to write great content.

PLR- Private Label Rights "â€" Giving the client the ability to resell or use the info on a website.

eBay Dropshipping

Earning: $20 to $100 a day.

Time: Half an hour-2 hours a day.

Investment: No upfront money needed.

Difficulty: Easy.

Payment received: Instantly.

Dropshipping is simply putting an item on eBay that you are buying from somewhere else at a lower price. Once your item is sold, you buy the item from the dropshipper and have them deliver it directly to the buyer. You get to keep the difference as profit and never have to handle merchandise yourself. This can be done with almost anything online aswell. From Steam accounts to software. Just find the right buyer and seller.

Would we have to file our earnings on our taxes since we are selling a product?

Alright I'm trying out the eBay one right now, and I have to say... eBay and PayPal fees are really brutal. Look at this calculator to see how much they take: <http://www.rolbe.com/ebay.htm> You have to charge a lot more than the other website's price to make a profit because of them.

h0meb0iy - March 25, 2010, 3:43 pm interesting... I will definitely look into some of these!

bob_21 - March 26, 2010, 2:16 pm

i kind of want to do the article writing, but how much do u get paid per one?

shaguar - April 4, 2010, 11:27 pm
A tip for those who are doing freelance writing is to write your article originally, then spin it using TheBestSpinner (I believe it's $87 or so) that way you can submit the same article to multiple sites, and as long as it's spun correctly (readable) you can get paid 5 times for writing just 1 article and spinning it.
(Apr 4, 2010 01:03 PM)lobozebra Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) i kind of want to do the article writing, but how much do u get paid per one?
On the low end, around $4 each. There are sites that pay $20+ per article, but they have more qualifications that need to be hit, for example, use these keywords 7 times in the article, this keyword 8 times, etc etc.

(Jun 4, 2009 04:04 AM)——•(-• ???g? •-)•—— Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Omega's Ultimate Money Making Guide

Are you tired of looking at phony ways to make money online? Tired of those "exclusive methods" that require large investments in advertising, just so you can turn a profit?
Well, here is my Ultimate Money Making Guide, for beginners.

Freelance Writing

Earning: $15 to $100 a day, depending on skills and time spent.
Time: 1 hour or more a day, depending on how long you take to write.
Investment: Just your time.
Difficulty: Easy " Medium.
Payment frequency: Depends on which site you work on.

Freelance writing is probably one of the simplest and fastest ways to make money on the Internet. The only thing you need is a computer and a reasonably solid English vocabulary. Don't worry no need to have professional writing skills. Most of the content you would be writing is promotional articles for products that will be sold over the internet. Most of these articles are written at 8 grade level, in order for them to be easily understood by anyone visiting the web site. Another great tip, you may search articles and rewrite them and then submit. Please do not plagiarise people's work.

Here are some of the sites I recommend that you start with:

Associated Content- (www.associatedcontent.com)
GoArticles (www.goarticles.com)

Ezine articles (www.ezinearticles.com)

TextBroker (www.textbroker.com)

For Associated Content, something to note is that you shouldn't bother with proxies, as the rules just state that you need to be a citizen of the US, but can live anywhere in the world. Just put any valid US address during registration.

US Addresses can be obtained from (www.fakenamegenerator.com)

Selling PLR Article Packs

Earning: $30 to $100 a day or more.

Time: 2 to 4 hours a day.

Investment: Just your time.

Difficulty: Medium.

Payment received: Instantly.

Another way to make money is by writing or rewriting articles or by selling a pack of articles, probably around 10 on webmaster and marketing forums like Digital Point (forums.digitalpoint.com) and the Warrior Forum (www.warriorforum.com).

PLR- Private Label Rights " Giving the client the ability to resell or use the info on a website.

eBay Dropshipping

Earning: $20 to $100 a day.

Time: Half an hour-2 hours a day.

Investment: No upfront money needed.

Difficulty: Easy.

Payment received: Instantly.

Dropshipping is simply putting an item on eBay that you are buying from somewhere else at a lower price. Once your item is sold, you buy the item from the dropshipper and have them deliver it directly to the buyer. You get to keep the difference as profit and never have to handle merchandise yourself. This can be done with almost anything online aswell. From Steam accounts to software. Just find the right buyer and seller.

Offline/Online Cash Method- Websites for businesses

Earning: $25 to $100 a day.

Time: 2 " 3 hours a day, depending on amount of clients.

Investment: Advertising Offline.

Advertising: $0 to $100 Offline.

Difficulty level: Medium - Advanced

Payment frequency: Right away when website is completed.

Offline- Many small businesses are willing to pay for a website. Place ads in the local paper, or even go door to door. Advertising costs quite a lot, but if you want it enough, you should reach the number of clients needed to make a profit.

Online- A lot of people online are willing to pay for a website. You can place ads on classifieds sites such as Craigslist, Kijiji or BackPage.

Once a client is found, you can charge anywhere from $20-50 depending on the clients needs. Make sure to ask them for media (Photos or Videos) they want to be displayed, and it's always good to get the contact info.

All you need to make the website are some simple web design skills and some site templates. Google is your best friend here, or, if the client is rolling out the big bucks, you can buy packs of templates for as little as $2 on TradeBit (www.tradebit.com).

Once your site is finished, register a domain name at GoDaddy.com. Domains with .com are usually $10, but searching Google to find "GoDaddy coupons" can lower the price.

For webhosting, a bannerless free site such as ByetHost (www.byethost.com). Then give the client the login details and there we have it.

GPT Sites

Earning: $1 to $35 a day.

Time: 1-2 Hours a day, gradually getting lower and lower.

Investment: Just your time.

Advertising: Youtube/Forums

Difficulty: Very Easy- Easy

Payment Frequency: Instantly to a couple of weeks.

GPT- Get paid to.

PTC- Paid to click.

So we've all heard of prizerebel etc. but which ones are really going to pay you, and give you the most out of your time? Heres a list of sites I would recommend, but first let me explain how GPT sites work.

GPT sites basically gives you advertisements/offers to complete which they pay you for. They make money by the site paying them for recruiting people to do there offers. There are many different types of offers including Free, CC Required, Payment Required, and Regional Only (e.g. US only).

Here are some good sites:

PrizeRebel (www.prizerebel.com) Offers

NeoBux (www.neobux.com) PTC/Instant Payment

Rewards1 (www.rewards1.com) Offers

Scour (www.scour.com) Search Engine (Paid to search)

Blackhat Scour (http://#.com/files/137204967/Scour_2.3.7.rar.html)

This bot does Scour searches for you! The scour search limit is 100 day (for points) so just go into settings.ini and put your user and pass in, aswell change the number of searches to 100. Credits to unknown.

Getting Referrals-

Referrals are important in having success with GPT sites. Make a convincing Youtube video showing some payments, or if your starting, look for paypal account pictures on Google Images. You might also want to look up GPT forums and post your referral link there.

If you used a method, thought I did a good job, please +Rep because it was one long write.[/u] ?

Scrappy CoCo™ - May 7, 2010, 2:23 pm

Nice thread, useful. ?

Royal Flush - May 7, 2010, 2:46 pm

Nice tut, might use it in the future

blaze612 - May 9, 2010, 11:07 am hmm seems like a good idea :D thanks toupee - May 10, 2010, 2:58 am any good dropshipping websites/wholesalers that are trustworthy? Or any recommended products?

simransinghkhara - May 10, 2010, 3:24 am

Nice post. Liked your way !

fleka12345 - May 10, 2010, 5:40 am

rschetalover - May 10, 2010, 6:56 am

nice job! i will use it abywentextree - May 10, 2010, 10:35 am where can I find some drop shipping sites which really can give me profit

rschetalover - May 11, 2010, 9:36 am very nice job!

It's amazing, i didn't know that there were so many ways to earn money. gonna try the freelance writing

Thanks

jimmyamar - May 13, 2010, 4:56 pm

woohooo theres alot of ways to make money and damit its summer time now and i dont have a job so im going to try these out

thanks :)

loldude101 - May 13, 2010, 6:18 pm

LOOOL the title of the post is really ironic because I made a site about this:

Such a great guide. Thanks.

eXpL0it8z - May 26, 2010, 9:39 am will try one of this but not now:D

n00bhackr - May 27, 2010, 3:05 am

Btw, can someone explain scour.com? I joined, but i don't see how to make money off it?

raiseheck - May 27, 2010, 2:10 pm

The freelance writing sounds good. I saw something on a website once that linked to lonelyplanet, that talked about writing travel articles. The point is, it is moral and honest, and legal. I might look into this.

Konata Izumi - June 6, 2010, 4:04 am

What are some good ways to start doing dropshipping?

sisyphus - June 6, 2010, 10:43 am

This is actually very, very helpful to me! Thank you so much. I've been looking for legit places I can trust. I love writing and most of the money I've ever made I've done so through an online outlet. Lately I've fallen out of the loop but I'm looking to get back in. So thank you!

Radke - June 6, 2010, 4:44 pm

Omega could you recommend price for articles depending on word count?

Shiimi - June 8, 2010, 2:43 pm

Can someone help me? I got approved for one of the sites for writing articles but you have to send them a w-9. I live in america but I am barely turning 17 and don't know what I should do... Any suggestions?

Blackrosex - June 13, 2010, 1:16 am

Great guide thanks i'd really like to see this kept up to date overtime and added to as news methods come along.

If I could rep I would.

One day!

kjekkas - June 13, 2010, 12:05 pm

thanks for the great tut :)

z0mbi3 - June 13, 2010, 7:52 pm great great tutorial bro.... thanks for sharing :D

Three7s - June 15, 2010, 9:58 am

I love textbroker, though some of the clients can suck sometimes. I've made $40 in a week there as a 4 star writer.

I'd love to do dropshipping too, but can't find any good sites.

ideas - June 15, 2010, 9:41 pm

it is looking interested. I've never found these methods anywhere else.

Thankyou very much.

worldwidemoney - June 19, 2010, 6:19 am

Great guide thanks! I found an additional way to monetize, create great content that people want then lock it with a site like leadbolt.com

If you create a site with something that people really want, this works very well.

chinagash - June 20, 2010, 4:47 am

Special thx for this thread man..didn't know we could gain those amount in 1 - 2hrs dragonfly - June 20, 2010, 7:16 am

Thanks for the info, I have tried one of your suggestion that is /cf2r7l|Neobux, at first it did spend some time to me but if you can get the right strategy you can earn even more :p

Raiden - June 21, 2010, 7:10 pm

Great thread!!!

Looking for a good freelance article writing job.

If anyone has any suggestions feel free to send me a pm/post. (I'm not American btw)

Omega. Great Post. The ebay technique seems to be simple and easy but yet again a bit risky but the techniques are extremely original. Great Job Mate!

ShutYourMouse - July 5, 2010, 3:22 pm

wow great post man, thanks.

TheGame.exe - July 6, 2010, 3:02 am

Son, I'm 17 and that Textbroker requires you to be 18 (it still let me register), so is it going to shaft me when I request payout or what?

MahPiyaAte - July 6, 2010, 8:12 pm

Ok, I may be half retarded here. I downloaded that Blackhat Scour, got a Scour account, put my account information in the .ini file, and ran the .exe file, and it does the searches for me, but my search count on my scour profile doesn't increase. Does it take a while for it to update? Or am I totally missing something here?

Hamada14 - July 8, 2010, 10:23 am

Good work with the guides. Quick question about sharecash (anyone can answer). Do you use your real info, or just make something up? Planning on signing up, i just want to make sure i do it right.

RushTheDead - July 23, 2010, 3:42 pm

Thanks a lot, gonna get started making some cash :D

PtP Devour - July 24, 2010, 1:15 pm

Pretty decent guide. The eBay droppshipping is one I wouldn't recommend if you're serious about making an eBay biz. Droppshipping can lead to a lot of problems since you are pretty much selling blind.

- Drop shippers can run out of the product you have listed and you're stuck with a customer that has payed for it but you have to tell them you ran out. Negative feedback incoming!

- A lot of drop shippers are scams

- The inventory isn't yours so you aren't in control. (very bad for business)

- Most drop shippers are middlemen, so you are actually losing potential profit.

athfierce0 - July 25, 2010, 2:57 pm

With the scour bot, i don't quite understand how it works, do we copy/paste the link ?

Eminent - August 12, 2010, 12:59 pm

I'm going to do the freelance one. I have a lot more than an hour a day to do this, and if it really is $15-100 a day then I could get a lot fast senadsa - August 14, 2010, 6:05 am i found this site <http://digital-artworks.org> maybe it can be useful they are new , but they don't have no one interested in it :Victoire:

they pay you when you earn those site points, and to earn them you need to sell your own video tutorials..
