Mike. - November 28, 2010, 11:58 am

Omni already has one, he had it last year.

Tate - November 28, 2010, 11:59 am

Well if he already has one, can I request this to get moved to the graphic section? I wanna see some people's banners.

legoman - November 28, 2010, 12:00 pm

Tate - November 28, 2010, 12:14 pm

Langleyyy - November 28, 2010, 12:19 pm

Warbiest - November 28, 2010, 1:12 pm

zyvox - November 28, 2010, 1:23 pm

Warbiest - November 28, 2010, 9:43 pm

Warbleep kinda-sorta gave me rights to use this pic, so I'm entering this (for him) D:

Maybe I'll edit with snowflakes.

Douchebaggery, enter your own.

Warbiest - November 28, 2010, 9:50 pm

No, I want that one to be used.
Warbiest won't be able to enter it, so I'm doing it for him.

It's was, and still is the best banner.

Minnesota Nice - November 29, 2010, 1:23 pm

I fixed it, again. (I think.)

If you all want a nice banner, I made a banner template PSD for the public:

Win, I love this one the best, although I still like Tate's too. Kind of a hard decision for me.

@Minnasota

I like this one out of all 3 of yours the best:

The amount of snow in the first two were unrealistic. The only thing I don't like is the snow between the U and the M, and the M and the S, on the bottom. That snow is cut off, and it doesn't look that good. (The very edge is cut off). You can probably use the lasso tool and the blur tool to rework that to not cut itself off.

Also, I don't like the blue and green present behind the K. Everything else on the photo is 2D (with a 3d appearance), and it's from a front view. The blue and green present is from an auxiliary view, which makes it look like it's not lined up with everything else.

If you're a good enough artist, I'd like to see the HackForums letters get a "frosty" look to them, with snowflakes and what not on them.

Dammit now I have to make an completely new one because of my extreme OCD. I'll update you guys when I finish the final one.
