If you have trouble counting money you shouldnt be using a computer.

I don't really see the point of this...if you can't count money, why are you clicking coins? I think you made the program backwards...wouldn't you want to give it the total and it tells you which coins to give out?

Either way, you should add $5 bills, $10 bills, etc. Rather than giving back 25 $1 bills do 1 $20 bill and 1 $5 bill

Could be possibly useful (in some way...) but I'm Canadian so fuck that American money.

Lol it could be useful for math if there is someone like in your family who doesnt understand they can use this :)

Thats what I was thinking. But adding that = form big as hell yeah, the one I made just told you what you needed to give out in a msgbox. Form was simple, two textboxes (total & amount given) and 1 button.
