This guide will teach you what to post in this section and examples of good and bad threads.

What to post and what NOT to post.

Hello HackForums Upgraded Users. Every day there is an abundant number of posts in this section concerning being upgraded to l33t and Ub3r. There are also an unreasonable number of threads concerning your reputation. Before you realize that you cannot make a thread about achieving '20 rep!' here, you must realize; it is a number. It is a number on a internet forum. It should not define you, no matter how many members take it into consideration.

You might ask now, "Well, if I can't post about my upgraded usergroup, what CAN I post about?"

Well HF user, you can post a brag of a large sales thread. Maybe brag that you were accepted into college. Something important.

Suppose you are in a band and just had your first single, you can brag about that here. Who knows? Maybe you designed your own OS and want to brag about it. This is the place.

Bad Thread Examples

We see an abundance of unwanted threads in this section. Here are some.
(Note No offense to the OP. Read below for actions you can take.)

Those are 14 threads out of the many that are posted everyday on HF. These threads are not needed in this section. Guess what? Those 14 threads were only on the first page. Yes, that is correct. Out of 20 threads, 14 were not needed here. Not worthy. Keep reading to see what you CAN do.

Good Thread Examples

Here are some threads that can belong in this section.

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=827019>
<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=862838>
<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=867431>

But I wanna brag!

You say you still want to brag? Then post about your excitement here

That is The Lounge. The Lounge is a place where we can post about off-topic and relaxed posts. Here is an even greater idea! If you feel the urge to post about your rep, post it in a thread that already exists on the subject. It would save loads of thread space.

Closing

Well, hopefully all members read this before posting in this section. Likewise, I suggest you check out all of the forums on HF and read the Help Docs. There very well might be a subforum in which your post can go. (If you are not sure, either post in the Lounge or do not post at all). Also, it is up to us as the members so mold HF how we want it. We make thread, we post, and we report posts. If we want, we can get things done, as a community.

Thanks for reading this.

Anyway, in accordance with my own ideals, here is my 'brag'.
Here are some recent events that are going on in my life, that I am proud of, and would like to express myself.

Recently snowed here. Shoveled many neighbors sidewalks and shit, to be nice.

Got my phone just recently.

Been getting in more contact with my mother and other family.

Getting my body in shape, starting it up again!

In all honors classes in school. Loads of engineering classes as well.

Hope you enjoyed my thread.

Great thread dude, So true ?!

CrystuL - December 4, 2010, 10:51 pm

Looks good, but people might be really happy about there "number" they have gotten. Not saying they should or shouldn't post the threads, but, we the people, shouldn't post in them then.

This is a good guide and people may not realize it, but, you are very right.

Now, my recent brags would be:

1. Just got a new phone - LG Cookie (All touch screen)
2. Broke my iPod, borrowed my brothers, it got stolen (Karma?)
3. Talked to a guy about buying some "Yellow Dr Dre Beats" - $230, I'm getting them for Christmas.
4. Found some sick new bands ;).
5. Wheeled 2 girls who both say I'm cute :).

Alright, and, I think people would post it in the lounge if there wasn't a "Bragging Rights" Section. The "Brag" part throws people off and just makes them think they can post literally anything in this section. They're happy they got something, so they want to brag about it and they post it in the section that says "Bragging Rights".

Very true. This needs to be a HQ subforum. Whenever Omni starts upgrading the accounts, it is flooded with 'just got l33t!' and 'just got ub3r!'.

A bit annoying IMO lol

Agreed, it does get a bit overwhelming, by the way thanks for the guide lines. There were a lot of posts earlier about nonsense goals.

Thanks.

No problem. I know this is a small step, but we need to start somewhere to clean this area up.

Well I'm glad I updated my bragging thread to involve me being able to afford my MMA classes again. No but seriously, thank you. I specifically waited to achieve a lot of the "forum goals" before posting a thread to prevent spamming with crap. Sticky request on this thread.

2 Cents - December 5, 2010, 4:04 am

So what, my thread is LQ or HQ?

I do agree though this subtopic gets spammed with loads of those upgraded threads.

Show No Mercy - December 5, 2010, 5:53 am

This discussion is made many times and omni stated that you could post here whatever you want. Your thread is good but (no offense) it's pointless because people won't stick to these rules.. They're allowed to post anything they want here.. I know some threads are quite nonsense but bragging about postcount and rep isn't a disaster. Also staff isn't allowed to move threads from this section to the lounge.

It is really stupid, 20th Rep... not a big deal. Like ever 100 Rep and 1,000 Posts should be allowed to post in here though. Thats actually an achievement. It is like making a post saying "I donated a penny to HF", really pointless.

Opulence - December 5, 2010, 7:50 am

Hmm Nice looking thread, but as Omni has stated on several occasions, one can post about anything worth bragging about, be it reps, posts and whatever.

Mike. - December 5, 2010, 8:53 am

I dont care if it does not become a rule of HF. Rather, I want to raise awareness to the members and hopefully they can take it up within themselves to post HQ here, and something worthy of this section. Most threads in this section can go in The Lounge.

Sometimes its not the rules that need to change, but some of the members' mindset. We can get things done here if we really try. I am just raising awareness. Thank you for your comments everyone!

Ub3r is not hard, even though it's been said this won't happen, that you can brag about whatever you want I still say we shouldn't. I wasn't here when ub3r was hard to get because I'm a new member here but I can say that I got it without a problem and so do most members. It's not that special.

Right, that is all I can hope for. I have sort of dropped this project recently, but I hope some people still notice. It is nice to brag, but maybe just post in a similar thread ?

???¢????z - March 21, 2011, 5:30 pm

I think all my bragging threads would be on the bad list but i have never seen this thread.

Thanks for ing it, will only use this section for more important brags now ?

prometheus. - March 21, 2011, 5:49 pm

I agree with you, With these rules in place it will limit people posting in this section about stuff we see over and over again.

BlowFish. - March 22, 2011, 3:22 am

That's nice to see, but there still many threads as that! :)

FourSeven - March 22, 2011, 3:32 am

Never seen this until now.

I'll think twice before posting a bragging thread again. Thanks :D

iWhizKid - March 22, 2011, 5:25 am

Leafs - March 27, 2011, 5:27 pm

Okay thanks for posting this, It gives me a clearer knowledge of the bragging section now.

Grumpy - April 28, 2011, 4:13 pm

I suggest you sticky this thread and lock it. Will prevent unnecessary replies, and then everyone who posts here will have no excuse when they see the thread stickied.

Long time ago when I made it, I asked the leader if I could have his support. He said yes. I also made a thread in there.
