Well I made one of these a long time back using web browsers (What a fucking noob I know.)
So yesterday I decided to make one in HttpRequest using Cookie containers.
So yea.
Screen:
Download: <http://www.mediafire.com/?666sx0a6e6ljvy6> <- Notice how it stands 666 in it.
It remembers the username and password, has multi mirror support etc.
Merry Christmas

I have to say - This little application is pretty cool. :]

You could add in mirror design support as well by changing the first character in the mirror id.
Regex is overkill in this situation...

Also, if you want some sort of challenge, see if you can figure out how the actual mirroring function works.
