You a fucking idiot kid?

I collocate, and if you think 'datacenter' as a term has anything to do with a reseller, then why the hell your running a hosting company, I don't know.

I was asking a question, of why the fuck the OP and by the looks of it the actual owner don't know what a datacenter is.

Then you turn around and call the only one person in the hosting section who isn't a 12year old on a reseller and actually makes profit; a reseller.

Anyway...good luck with your hosting bud...your going to need it.?

We have close relations with BurstNET, as such all our packages are based around there's, this doesn't mean we resell, and if we where to resell, it wouldn't be a problem, because I would do it right, unlike some.

P.S your english doesn't compute, are you mexican? Herro.

U MAD CUZ I RUN XBL? - December 15, 2010, 12:00 pm

Maybe my english is bad that doesn't mean i cant manage a server. I highly doubt you do any collocation. Close relationship? You seemed pretty much offended when i said you where a reseller. We both know you resell considering your website was fastly setup and as far as i know only sell to hackforums members. I am sorry to tell you that if you only have 50 clients within a month sir. You would not make any profit.

Could you please tell me how you do it right? Besides opening a ticket at burstnet?

Your story does not make. You do not know how to resell either. You have no idea of what your doing. You where either to lazy or did not know how to edit your template properly.

I have looked at the template demo for sell and you barley even edited it. If you are not competant enough to even edit your template you should not be offering hosting.

And you being a reseller is to obvious why?

You've bought a template.

Have a .info domain.

Could i also have the ip of one of your servers?

It is really easy to see if you are actually a reseller or doing a collocation just by an ip.

You also failed to match your terms of service with your template.

Id also like to mention if you bought hosting off this incompetent member. I would just go directly to burstnet for lower prices and better service.

Its not because your reseller hosting is in Amsterdam that your going to make me belive that you have a rack there.

If i was Mexican what would that do? You are referring Mexicans as people who don't have a perfect English which is respect.

You wont go outside of hackforums if you keep on acting like that and making racist remarks.
If you cant afford a .net or .com or even an other template thats not already made and 20$

I really doubt you can afford collocation.

We have close relations with BurstNET, as such all our packages are based around there's, this doesn't mean we resell, and if we where to resell, it wouldn't be a problem, because I would do it right, unlike some.

Most retarded shit ever why would having close relations with burstnet make your prices the same?

1. The website template is called a template for a reason, I honestly don't care how the website looks, it doesn't reflect the support and service I give.
2. Our main sites IP is 46.4.211.181, our Shared Hosting IP is 46.4.211.155, and our reseller IP's are confidential between us and our resellers.
3. Proof we own our own servers.[img]<http://i.min.us/iTE64.png>[img]
4. Our domain extension does not reflect our company, personally I do not believe in upholding a public image, its what our customers think that counts..ask any of our customers if they want to transfer to 'Chubby'Hosting, they will tell you to fuck off and shove your inexperience up your ass.
5. Do you know the difference between a server and a rack? of-course I don't own a rack, that would set me back a minimum of 1000$ per month in most datacenters for a 24U HALF Rack.
6. Our BurstNET relationship effects our pricing because we purchase dedicated servers from them that they use for there own VPS, this means we have around the same profit margin as BurstNET itself.
7. Our base clientèle is of course HF, we are #1 in the hosting marketplace here and I am not afraid to say that, HF is a great marketing tool for people who know what they are doing, I make money from this site, and people make money from me.
8. Do you think that pointing out the fact we use HF as a clientèle base is taken as an offence? I'm happy you pointed that out.
9. Although I aren't afraid to tell fuckers like you to fuck off, I am professional to my customers and any potential customers, so before you make a stupid remark about how I'm rude and abusive, just don't, unless your paying me.

I hope you actually read these points, instead of replying with half ass comments as if this is some sort of battle, besides the point that if it was a battle, your client base of 0-3 would of lost you the game, I am sorry to say.

1k for a rack? Your rack my be quite big.

Unless you knew the owner from webhostingtalk a few years ago before it became an inc1500 company. Theres no way you could of made such a relationship. The CEO does not even post on the forums any more.

If burst.net was going to have this kind of relationship i highly doubt it would be with a random 50 client company.

Unless your a reseller and get there reseller discount you wont get any other discount from them. And if you look at collocation for a SINGLE SERVER CO-LOCATION its 69$ a month.

So i highly doubt you know what your talking about.

Jesus kid when I talk about a relationship I mean we have close business relations, nothing else.

And I already told you, its a 24U Rack..surely you know the specifics?

What does co-location prices have anything to do with?

I also don't see why your knocking my amount of clients either, when you only have 2-3 and all of them posted saying the service is shit.

I act professionally, please note he started the 'trashing' and I will keep it going somewhat, I know I might seem like some child saying 'he started it' but at the end of the day thats the key gamechanger in any argument, I originally asked why he doesn't know what a Datacenter is, a simple question.., receiving a reply informing me that I was a reseller, the argument starter. In my opinion, being argumentative isn't wrong if your reasoning is right and what your saying is true, when someone throws bullshit around trying to provoke me im happy to reply with facts that may seem unprofessional and provoking to some, nevertheless you can't deny as a customer of WhiteLabelHosting that when it comes to support and service I have been entirely professional, because you didn't start your relationship with me as a client by offending me and throwing meaningless shit around, you paid, and receiced the service and support that im willing to uphold to anyone who purchases my products.

Cool story i though you where gonna leave the thread? Your template still is a purchased one. Haven't you been a network tech for 4 years? I was amazed how you did not have any iptables for when you were apparently ddosed or even have a ring server. So you should add 4 months not 4 years.I can see you are very mature so you bought a .co just to come here and go i got a .co 3x better? I see.

You also consider people that don't have a flawless english mexican which is called stereo types. Couldn't really expect more from a wannabe tech.
