Thread: [\[Based on IRC\] Adsense or alternative advertising networks \[WORKING + PAYMENT PROOFS\]](#)

CacaoBux - December 26, 2010, 7:32 am

GOOGLE Adsense

We are based on IRC and we are exchanging clicks between users. Also, our server is highly protected including cloaking IP addresses and with minimum effort you can get more than €500 per month.

Basic Guidelines:

1x exchange with a member on our channel per 24 hours.

For example: You exchange with WhosYourDaddy at 12:00 PM and to exchange again with WhosYourDaddy you need to wait 24 hours after the last exchange, so you'll exchange with him again at 12:00 PM on the next day.

Using proxy will get you banned by Google.

Your CTR must be below 2%.

Active users on our channel will receive voice (+v). It means you're more trusted exchanger.

You must use your HF username.

Our previous thread.

To join in our exchange network, you need to fill this form below and after that you should join in the channel listed below, paste the filled-in application into the channel and wait for acceptance.

Server: irc.abjects.net

Port: 6667

Channel: #Apps

If you're having trouble connecting, connect to the Abjects network and enter Apps in the popup box and press join.

Do you guys know of any one who sells traffic in order to keep CTR down?

Ashm - December 28, 2010, 2:35 pm

I use this channel. They have helpful staff, and a large amount of people to exchange with. The chat is pretty much always active, and pretty much everyone is willing to help each other out.

One word of advice: PAY ATTENTION TO THE RULES. If not, you'll get banned.

Using a proxy will get you banned, even if you're just viewing your page for impressions. This has just been confirmed. Unfortunately, by me.

Sendmelinks.com has a 1:1 ratio for impressions. For every blog/site you view you get one view in return. PPlinx.com is having a $3 special, including 5000 impressions.

this click ring is amazing. everyone is profiting. there are the occasional fuckheads who don't take the two minutes to click your ads in exchange, but there are attempts to weed them out. if you need help increasing your rates per click, no worries, the IRC is full of helpful people. it's quite cozy.

to help this click ring personally, i'm considering offering the free service to participants to implement an iframe in one of my websites to help increase views on your advertisements to help keep your CTR low. :)

After joining the IRC channel, answering the questions, I nice responses, I was playing a Counter-Strike match, and when I said I can't talk much at the moment because of that, I got kicked with random reason, and after rejoining I got banned for this reason: "Come back when you have time for us... fucktard". So maybe these kids should not be running this? Very childish behavior, and very bad first impression.

Are you sure you got the right nickname? Your nickname on irc should be the same one you registered with else you wont be able to identify.

If it is and you still cannot indentify, register your nickname again.

Port 9000 could be the problem.

But I thought that you could connect to the Abjects server? So if you can connect that is not the problem.

Please be specific with describing your problem, a screenshot could help as well.

The last time I was in the Apps channel I saw you and some other dude, but when I pm'ed you you didn't respond. I also tried posting in the chat, but no reply. When I typed !rules like instructed when I

You can search any warez forum for mIRC crack or even use google for that matter. When my name shows in #Apps you can just paste your application into that channel and I WILL read it. The exchange bot is down right now so thats why !rules does not work for the moment.

Please try joining again today.

The IRC is up and running but just lack of people online currently, so all those of you who wants to help us make it as it was, please feel free to apply and lets all earn some extra cash via these advertising networks.

Please fill-in the application (you can find it in the first post) and send it to me via PM or you can join directly in the abjects server (channel #Apps) and wait for acceptance there.
