What happened

Spoiler (Click to View) Ok so today i seen this thread with Morals looking to buy a 15th prestige account...i had 2 so i figured why not...so he messaged me a PM and said he wants to buy with his AiM contact...so i message him on AiM and he said he already bought one for $40.00 and if i would sell for $20.00, i said no...5min later he messages me back saying ok...i was assuming this meant he would do it for $40.00 am i wrong for thinkin that? So i give him the info since i seen his rep and it was decent, but then he starts saying lololol fail you got scammed lololol(not those exact words but you get the point) Funny thing is, if he just bought an account for $40.00 then why did that transaction go so fast and mine take him time to "Set stuff up"? I think he was lying about that part also...So afte about an hour of bullshittin with this kid he finally decides to message me sayin ok so do you want the account back or $20.00...i say i dont want $20.00 give me the account...he says ok 25 i get tired of his shit so im just like give me $30.00 just because its gettin old and i cant stand kids tryin to scam...so in the end i came out $10.00 short if its not a good report or whatever just let me know just tryin to let people know to be careful when dealing with him...

I don't know but I messaged this guy trying to ask him what it was about and to resolve it and he got all mad and posted on my group recruitment and reped me... It's because I paid him $30.00 and he thought we agreed on $40 smh but I offered to pay him the $10 to make him happy
