Nahhhh, its functionality isn't really in question.

Probably wont sell to much anyways with all these copypasta AIO's Stealer/keyloggers with a 1gb output lolol xdreamist27 - January 12, 2011, 1:41 am

Just bought it, really smooth sale and a great seller, has good ideas for the project and the ease of use is second to none.

Would recommend.

Meth - January 12, 2011, 1:57 am

Thanks for the vouch! Worked well enough he got all my info as I was foolish enough to infect myself. lika baus

Meth - January 12, 2011, 1:54 pm

Updating this with right now with alot more features now. Price will raise. So buy now doom7 - January 12, 2011, 2:09 pm does it require .net dependency?

Yeah, net 2.0 which just about everyone has.

PureBreed - January 12, 2011, 2:25 pm

Really good price, good luck with sales!

Meth - January 12, 2011, 3:08 pm

Thanks. Im working on a rather large update right now.

Meth - January 13, 2011, 1:21 am selling this guise. Its a easy to use FUD logger that performs great

BilQ - January 13, 2011, 6:24 am

Vouch!:) I love your keylogger! When can we expect updates?:)

Meth - January 13, 2011, 6:27 am

As I said previously Im working on a rather large update adding tons of features, stealers and more but it will take some time.

Meth - January 13, 2011, 7:29 am

Here is a preview of the next version :O

Spoiler (Click to View)

There will be a mess load of options and new functions. Well options I feel are worth adding anyways.

Grieve™ - January 13, 2011, 8:08 am looks very nice! goodluck with your sales!

Meth - January 13, 2011, 10:37 am

Thanks man. If anyone is interested in buying just pm me ill be on for a bit

Meth - January 13, 2011, 6:39 pm

Online if anyone is interested ^^

Monstah - January 13, 2011, 6:40 pm

does this have any built in stealers?

It wasnt supposed to be some AIO shit. It's just a clean perfect functioning keylogger. Although due to competition in the next update I am indeed including stealers. Look a few posts above. I show a preview.

Meth - January 16, 2011, 1:25 pm

Online if anyone is looking to buy,

The Holy Shit. - February 6, 2011, 9:44 pm

Meth i suggest you remove the word 'Polymorphic' from this thread before someone jumps in here and pwns the fuck out of your keylogger.

Meth - February 6, 2011, 9:46 pm

It's alright I'll take my chances with that since there's nothing to "Pwn the fuck" out of.

The Holy Shit. - February 6, 2011, 10:01 pm

Mk,

Your code is NOT polymorphic, There's nothing polymorphic about it, you're false advertising, and i can tell you all of this without even looking at the executable.

You most likely do not know what polymorphic means.

Polymorphism:

The ability for code to morph by itself, meaning the Encryption and Decryption functions also undergo morphism. Using a USG is not polymorphism, it morphs once, and only once, Polymorphism morphs each run.

Gonna take it down now?

.Astro - February 6, 2011, 10:02 pm

I'm aware of what polymorphic is. You're making the assumption that I'm an idiot.

On startup it first starts second executable that rewrites the variables of the server, starts the server and closes itself.

It's probably not the cleanest method I'm sure but never the less it's polymorphic.

The files for COOLoggers are on my laptop, which is currently dead and my laptop charger gave out. I ordered a new one itll be here in the next couple days and ill ReFUD it.

In the future can you please not upload to Virustotal, it certainly doesnt help. Im aware I do it but that's because Im testing for FUDness if everyone starts doing it, it will speed up detection.

If you have a certain AV that picks it up just tell me.

Edit: I just scanned it, Its not detected you obviously must have bound it to something or modified it in some way.

Sorry, i didn't know. I know what they mean, but as the scantime and runtime were not listen in the features i assumed that it wasn't. I have had loggers which were fud before but because they weren't scantime and runtime, my target's antivirus detected it.

Thanks for the logger. It's fab so far :D

Do the logs have window titles so I can find what I want easier?

For example if the user is on RS will I see "runescape.com- then (logs)"

Aaand how do I buy it o.o don't see any links

That means it was just scantime.

Scantime = Undetected when being scanned

Runtime = Undetected when being ran.

Its assumed when someone puts FUD

Once you log into Gmail, it'll blatantly say that you've been blocked.. but if you're not getting the logs at all (Emails) then it is because the user is probably offline.

now divinity - February 13, 2011, 4:31 pm

thank you proxe and yes i understand that they could be offline. but i gave it to 6 people who were doing stuff on there computer and i even opened myself as a test and it was sending information about what i was doing but it all stopped?

People bitching the Coollogger (Big update) isnt free, consider it a diffrent product. I just felt like using the same name

It has nothing uncommon with this aside from the fact it includes a keylogger, I've spent nearly a month on it and by no means am selling it for 5$. It's replacing my original project Addict logger. Current customers will still get a large discount on it though.

Here's the output at the moment

<http://pastie.org/1584766>

Obviously edited out my passwords and it's messy (Ill clean up how the logs look) but as you can see now has stealer support which was pretty much the last thing that needed to be finished up.

I'm really hoping to have the update out tommorow

Stealer support?? I'm jumping up and down like a mother fucker right now :P

really hot download. So how much is this new product selling for?

Why do you think it's stupid?

Meth - February 24, 2011, 2:16 am

The method takes 2 seconds to do yourself nor does it work on XP making your server just look silly.

I can't do it, as i'm on xp. But i thought an exstension changer would solve that. Apparently not.
shrugs

Meth - February 24, 2011, 2:19 am

It doesnt actually change your extention, It just makes the . invisible so instead of say al.exe.jpg it will look like alexe.jpg

It's just a method of hiding it. Although on XP this invisible character shows up as a symbol

Revilomad - February 24, 2011, 2:40 am

Great logger & its working flawlessly so far.

Request

- A downloader so we can remotely update the exe. Use Triton &/or XYZ Logger as an example for what I mean
- An option to allow the name change of the program running in task manager, other than "java.exe"
- More assembly options such as version number

Otherwise this is a very good logger and is now my primary logger of choice. Oh, and it was FUD for me too.

Thanks again Meth, really appreciate it man!

Yeah I'll fix that. The irony is I'm the one who wrote a bypass for this

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=928028>

Yet forgot to implement it in my own program.

As for why I chose one name (java) for all servers, it left me alot more flexibility with what I can do with the server as the process name is global. If it poses to be a problem I will change it.

That means they had no other saved data to retrieve. It only shows what they have rather than a bunch of empty logs like other stealers

There's absolutely nothing wrong with the stealers, because they didn't return anything does not mean they aren't working. They are doing their job, and there's no room for them to "not work"

Solution: Infect more than a "few" people ;D

I spread my virus via P2P last night to around 40+ victims, and I found out this morning that I had zero logs.

Turns out, binding things with Windows' built in "IExpress" is a bad idea. Every one of those people got a "not a valid Win32 application" error, thus I didn't infect any of them.

Just two words for this vendor: SIMPLY GREAT! He spent 2 hours on my PC cause my machine had problems with .NET before and then other issues and he solved all. Super-vouch for him, great coder and personally I can say he is a great person, patient, friendly and really a PRO. If you do not buy this you must be crazy guys

DutchPie - March 1, 2011, 8:48 am

Nexus bot account + auths are stored in "data.db" located @
"whereveryouinstalledthebot\config\data.db". So it's harded to steal these, except if they placed it in the bot folder.

I'm definitely going to buy this when it has the upcoming features.

OK, I just bought that stealer few minutes ago. The GUI and fonctions are fucking good. But it's already detected by 2 AVs :

The bit defender detection is your own fault. You didn't use assembly info.

Bitdefender picks up files without assembly or if you used something like Microsoft that also gets picked up

I know, I know, no offense. Just post what I'm waiting for :)

BTW. I get some victims anyway but I got bug or something, firstly everything was OK but now in every log I have 5 times the same things in Stealers section.

It looks like:

Code ~~Stealers~~

~~Firefox~~

bla bla bla

Windows Key: xx-xx-xx-xx-xx

(Windows Key is on end always I think)

And again few times the same Stealer log

What's wrong?

Is this only the new server? I may have made an error. There really is no reason it'd show to stealer logs unless the first log was unable to send its pickup from the second and read the stealer log.

Obviously not. There's no reason it wouldn't send and I assure you it's not on the programs end unless your computer is just blocking outgoing mail in general.

Make sure you are using the correct smtp and on the simple builder the @hotmail.com will only work for @hotmail.com Make sure it's not live, co.uk etc.

Immensify - March 3, 2011, 7:42 pm

I have got it to work after a computer restart. Very odd, thanks for the help!

I have another question. What's with the logs being scammed with this (almost every single victim has massive logs like this):

Code

Down><Right><Up><Left><Down><Down><Down><Down><Down><Down><Right><Up><Down>
<Right><Left><Up><Left>ah<Back><Back><Back><Back><Back><Back><Back><Back>< Back><Back><Back><Back><Back><Back><Back><LShiftKey>:S<Back><Back><Back><Back><B ack><Back><Back><Back><Back><Back><Back><Back><Back><Back><Back><Back><Back><B ack><Back><Back><Back>ah fine

It does this with every victim, what he actually types is hidden like a puzzle with all of these spam arrow key logs.

What's up with that?

Meth - March 3, 2011, 7:49 pm

When you close CooLogger, it still runs the process in the background (assuming its a bug). When you try to "open" CooLogger back up and re-configure a new logger, it still has the other CooLogger process running, thus it still thinks you're using the email you type in before, and it bugs out the email option.

Solution is to CTRL + ALT + DEL, end "CooLogger.exe" (all running processes of it) and then try again.

Worked for me.

I want it because i paid my money and i should get the product i invested in. You should make sure that all of your customers are catered for and just pm them the new server. Why should i have to seek you out for a product that i purchased from you already? You should just fucking give it. How is that so hard to understand. Is it not fair??? If you know that a product i purchased from you isn't working anymore, then you do what you can to fix that, and if that involves pming me the fix then so be it, right?

I don't know what you're talking about with regards to putting a smile on it :/ But i really do not mind supporting someone and their product if they are able to deliver on what they have promised. I'd happily pay for your new logger if i knew t hat i would get better service, because some of the features of it are fucking awesome, and would come in super handy. You're talented, but i just think you need to come with a better attitude sometimes.

I've already thought about the possibility of your autoupdates being infected, that's why i run in sandboxie. All i want is the autoupdates which were promised, without having to come to you everytime to do it manually - though i understand that this isn't an update, but a new server.

Yes, an aspect of business is fucking ppl skills, which you seem to be lacking in a little. It won't kill you to stop being such a douche every now and then. Maybe you'd even get more buyers. Thanks for the link.

Also if you try to fix it it'll be nice if it show pasted text too.

I don't appreciate the sarcasm.

I'm not sure if this is because of RuneScape logs, and the victims adjusting their screen. I would like to see if other people have this problem as well.

Also, unless I choose the 'Melt File' option, I receive up to 5 duplicate logs from the same victim at the same time.

Meth - March 4, 2011, 3:25 pm

I'm a sarcastic douche.

As for why there is always arrows, people scroll with them. I could remove them but I included every key as that is it's purpose but I suppose there is no practical reason of logging arrows.

as for why you get multiples, they ran it multiple times. I need to add a mutex.

Yes, me and every other RuneScape user would love it if you could have an option to log arrows or not.

And that's what I was thinking, a mutex should ready be added.

Thanks for the support :)

Its actually a multitude of things I get multiple times... its weird. I meant to bring this up to you sooner, but figured I'd wait until the binder was done.

I sometimes get the same email twice:

I also get a weird thing where for nearly the entire block of the day, I won't get any logs, and then later on I get bombarded...?

I also get major duplicates in my logs... Windows key over and over, it'll steal the same account over and over:

Kill the process of "CoolLogger.exe" and if you have the file stub in your startup folder delete it, and try again.

It's because he ran it multiple times, i will be adding a mutex to prevent this.

Whats does the Show windows option mean?

[img]http://img121.imageshack.us/img121/4964/110308155628.png[/img]

I thought it meant that if nothing was typed, It wouldn't say the window name unless you have it checked, but it still does. [img]http://img121.imageshack.us/img121/8493/110308164953.png[/img]

I don't know if its just me, but the stealer for Firefox isn't working... I'm getting stealer dumps for Chrome, IE, etc. but not FF...? Is this also a known issue? Almost all of the people I've infected are using FF too, which is kind of frustrating. I don't know if its just me, but the stealer for Firefox isn't working... No the firefox stealer works fine, It's merely the fact they have no firefox saved passwords.

Yeah FF stealer is working fine for me.

greenik - March 9, 2011, 1:45 am

Hey, I'm wonder what you'll add in next update, could you write simply post with next update's addons?

And I have also some ideas what you can do in future:

- Opera stealer
- Cure (If someone want to check on himself then he can easily cure it)
- Don't show empty window's titles (someone already posted that)
- Deleting cookies and steam login&password(clientregistry.blob)
- I don't know if it's possible, so no offence - don't send same stealer's logs all the time, for example first log send all of them but next logs will send only updated stealer's logs. Or just send it once and we can just read login and password from keylog.

I don't know if someone will like this but it's just my opinion :)

Opera stealer - Done

Dont show empty window titles - Done

As for the stealer suggestion that can be done I just didn't see it as a huge deal having the stealer logs at the bottom of every log besides that'd make it a pain to find the single log that contains the stealers.

It was built around the old version in which they were all named java.exe, if you name your server install name to java it will work.

I intend on making it work for any process name when I get a chance

As for FF I'm not quite sure what to tell you, it appears to be working fine. Make sure you saved via firefoxes "Would you like FireFox to save this password" and not the site itself.

I'll take a look in the code though to see if I can spot out anything that could possibly cause that.

Oh right that's because I disabled Process protection for the time being.

Ah, that's a possibility. I will update my FireFox and see if I am still able to retrieve passwords or not.

For whatever reason it was unable to take a screenshot on there computer, in the previous version it simply wouldn't send so you didnt notice if it happened. It catches the error and resumes now

I'm loving the new update! This is the greatest keylogger by far! And I'm especially loving the RSBot account ini stealer and Nexus stealer!

Let me give you a suggestion for the next update, make arrow and volume control keylogging an option, because it is very hard to read game logs because they adjust their screen or move with their arrow keys.

Thanks,

You're not doing something right. It's been tested on every OS/Bit.

If you have Infection notify on it will send an email immediately
If you have stealers enabled (Particularly nexus) it will delay the logs as it has to perform a search

There's no reason it wouldnt send besides fault in being setup.

uffe - March 15, 2011, 1:37 pm

I did have the notify on, did test the mail before i did build the server. Did have the nexus thing yes, but the logger time was like 10 minutes, i've waited 20. :p

uffe - March 15, 2011, 1:40 pm

Nope. I'll do a new msn and try it. :~)

Meth - March 15, 2011, 1:42 pm

Then it's simply not running. That's like the first thing it does.

Email is incorrect or PC is blocking it

Edit: if you are using a brand new made account hotmail requires you to go and manually type a captcha before you can send anything..

Meth - March 16, 2011, 4:38 pm

It should work fine, as you can use rsbots auto log to login. If it's not working that means they just used bad info on rsbot.

Virus scan

http://scan4you.net/result.php?id=678a1_88936

You will get it via the autoupdate feature although I am now using a new HWID system (Sorry)

Please pm me your hwid and I will activate it.

If you recieve File not found on server error while updating make sure youre writing to somewhere the program can access such as My Desktop (Error is actually caused by it not having permission to download the update - was to lazy to update the error message)

You're not typing it EXACTLY as you have it on paypal. You need to do it exact, it's cap sensitive.

I wonder if the icon changer should work or its not working right now?

It works if i change the icon on the file i want send. But if i bind the file with something else and try change the icon. The new file i binded goes away and i have the file i created with the new icon only?

Also is it right that if the target that got infected are not Admin user. then it will not logg some stuff and when he/she restart the computer it will stop working?

I saved more than one account on a test machine in the latest version (non-beta) of FF and it didn't steal anything... I've also never gotten logs from anyone using new versions of FF, only older ones. I can confirm they're older ones too because in screenshots you can see FF.

Ugh. I'll do another test now with the new version of CL, give me 15 mins. Fuck me sideways its working now.. wtf

I have no idea what was wrong here... I guess something must have changed on the new version you released...? I mean, honestly - I wouldn't lie... its not stealing any FF data from new versions, only old ones on people I've currently infected (from older version of CL, maybe ~3 weeks ago).

I have no words... wow. I'm so confused.

Did you try FF 4.x (beta) since we're both here/on the subject? Would it have been the fact that I kept it as "java"?

Meth - March 18, 2011, 1:24 am

I highly doubt it would have to do with the process name, possibly it was an error on my part that is now fixed?

It doesn't recognize the [CTRL] button(It just displays v or c, etc.).

Another major problem is that it doesn't pick up anything put into password fields, whether it be on Runescape(which is what I'm primarily concerned about), or just anything else.

Any fix for this?

Any fix for this?

It has nothing to do with it not recognizing the ctrl key. It's something I overlooked and will fix.

And it logs password fields fine. Where they are typing has no influence on it at all, nearly everyone who purchases this logger uses it for rs and have made 100s from gold.

I also have a customer who gave me access to his logs to make sure all was working well, his infections (mostly rs players) picked up passwords fine. Don't know what to tell you

As I said the location of there typingtext will make no difference, it logs there keystate not the text itself, so with all respect you are incorrect.

Edit:

Your problem could be the fact I didnt incorporate any break inbetween there username and password therefore it will show as one word ie. ThisisausernamePass1234
I'll add tab later on seeing as thats what most people use to switch to the next textbox.

maaedison - March 18, 2011, 4:13 am

There's live support for a reason. I don't want everyone filling up my msn

Illhackyou - March 18, 2011, 3:15 pm

How much does it cost? also is this a file that will be sent through another file?

Meth - March 18, 2011, 3:20 pm

It's all on the thread and what do you mean by that.

ihackyou11 - March 18, 2011, 3:35 pm

The Rsbots_accounts.ini that the keylogger steals, are the passwords encrypted or something. Because i got a kids username bankpin but the pass turned out like this password=233a117a65a173a76a44a77a99a76a100a-47a-1a56a-39a4a-56a127a-83a13a119

JohnH - March 18, 2011, 3:59 pm

ihackyou11 hes working on a decrypter but it will be tough to make because i think the passwords are encrypted using the owners hardware id. i have the encrypted pass for an account with 99 fish, wc, hunt and herblore! guessing its a skiller. anyway i got two hacked accounts today and made 93m profit

Meth - March 18, 2011, 4:08 pm

I'm so tired of people bringing up the RSBot issue. im working on a decrypter as said above its encrypted using some form of hardware id I need to figure out what then I will be able to decrypt it on there computer and send you the info. I decompiled RSBot and found the encryption part so im working on it and glad to hear john!

oh it is. youll have an orgasm.

jorjus - March 18, 2011, 10:50 pm

ill have a bigger orgasm when the rs stealers are working as that will be what im keylogging but untill then i will be able to get there user and pass when they type it in at rs.com right?

Meth - March 18, 2011, 10:52 pm

They do work, you can easily use the data.db on your own bot as for rsaccounts.ini Im working on a decrypter, and yes it will keylog them

jorjus - March 18, 2011, 11:06 pm

So it actully sends u the data.db file?

Meth - March 18, 2011, 11:10 pm

Yes and attaches it to the email.. I obviously wouldnt advertise it unless it did it.

Major vouch for meth. i like this guy this looks really nice.

Crayz - March 21, 2011, 6:13 pm

Ok gotta say this program was well worth the money! I have also made my own profit off of this... considering RS gold is about a dollar a mill and I've made around 1Bill total.. Haha thanks meth and really wish you could somehow decrypt the password for the rsbot.dat file.. :/ Other then that i get the bank pin and once they log in and its simple from there!

Thanks again major vouch for meth this has everything I expected and more everyday almost!

Meth - March 21, 2011, 7:14 pm

Thank you for the vouch.

I'd say the update is around 90% completion, it will probably be released late tonight.

Going to get a bite to eat and will be back to work after.

Second I dont know. As I've said over 9000 times they're not easy to bypass, I've been working on this all day. I'm tired. I update and work harder then many other sellers so be happy just the fact I'm releasing yet another big update just a couple days after the last.

i was saying it as a bad thing.. FTP is sloppy and unorganized and difficult to go through.

And it's not like gmail is the only smtp in the world, hell you could start your own..

I set up IonCube on my server, works fine. Not as pretty looking as Gmail, but nonetheless I've got no limits for anything, so its nice.

Piranhaa - March 22, 2011, 1:20 pm

I have a question, it send me the rsbot_accounts.ini , but the password is encrypted and from what i read on the internet it can only be decrypted on the computer it officialy came. Is there anyway this can be decrypted? Because what is the use of it if it sends me the file when the password is impossible to decrypt (Keep in mind im really new to this hacking and stuff)

Hugh Hefner - March 22, 2011, 1:20 pm

How do we decrypt the RSBOT password dude? Im getting all the rsbot steals as password=189a16a109a21a132a114a-3a65a35a-26a-84a-53a89a125a-127a-1a-105a-59a7a96 or similar

Meth - March 22, 2011, 1:24 pm

You can start by not asking this shit on my thread.

Second if you looked around you'd see there are decrypters.

Hugh Hefner - March 22, 2011, 1:34 pm

If I knew someone was asking the same questions THE EXACT same time as me I wouldn't have asked.

Also, I have looked. I can't find any. I thought you would have been happy to point out where I could get one.

Nevermind.

Meth - March 22, 2011, 1:37 pm

Decrypters will only work on the users computer, since its protected by sha-1+HWID, therefore you have to decrypt it on there commputer, by building it inside the keylogger to decrypt and send.

I bitch on your thread because you are far more supportive to your product than he is, and on top of that, your logger actually does what I'd like it to do... it just some features didn't work/broken/disabled.

I've actually used yours and have had results with it, XYZ's I cannot - because it doesn't steal (which was my fault when I bought it, I just automatically assumed that feature would be in there). I'm not saying I absolutely cannot use XYZ, I'm just saying - if I'm going to infect computers with this stuff, I want it done right.

I understand programming is time consuming and tedious work. I've done some programming in the past. Believe me, I know how hard your work is. I apologize for being a pain in the ass.

Just... you know, estimate better. Assume you'll run into problems and tell us it'll be a day or two. If you've got real life stuff coming up, say it'll take longer.

I'd go on, but I think you get the idea. Back to waiting.

Just had a question, remember me asking if using resource editor would mess up my server at all?

Well I have 2 slaves and both capture logs well but it's missing keys. For example..

Myemail123@gmail.com showed up in logs at mymil13@gail.com

And I of course figured it was my error using the editor so I just wanted some feedback when ur not busy.

When testing in a 32-bit Windows 7 Ultimate VM

I've also had an issue since the last update (the one before today's) where emails would send without a screenshot (we talked about that) which is fine, however, the emails that don't have the screenshot send multiple times, the same log as well. I've also not received infection notifications for certain PCs either - I just start receiving logs from them... multiple of the same log & w/o screens.

I can't select anywhere to install the update to dude, and when I manually try I just get a wierd file type show up.

Meth - March 23, 2011, 1:10 pm

It sounds like you're trying to update with an older version.

Only 2.0.0.2 can update

There computer is idle therefore in the same window sending the same log.

As for it failing to run your VM is missing an important system file. Try it without the FF stealer enabled and let me know if it works if so i can fix it quick

The failed screenshots we talked about, I understand that, I meant that the failed screenshot email itself will send multiple times of the same email. The email WITH the screenshot will only send once - without, multiple.

And yeah, just tested it, it was the FF stealer. I updated to FF 4.0 on the VM and thats whats causing the file missing error.

Alright I'll add error handeling and take a look into updating for the new FF

I'm using the latest version dude.

The GUI tells me theres a new ver. available and I get a pop up telling me to download the update. But it wont let me choose and install directory.

Thanks, Meth. Smart programming :) What did you think of adding a "clear cache" (or whatever) option that forces a slave to re-enter passwords saved by Websites? Function seems very similar to clearing passwords and guarantees they will re-enter it. That would be a killer feature in my opinion. Keep up the stellar work!

Past - March 23, 2011, 4:22 pm

First of all, I know that talking about RS is banned, but in this case we are talking about your keylogger's feature which would be very useful, if I among many others could use it more powerfully.

You said you are too busy to make a guide for encrypting the stolen accounts.ini's, but I'm just asking that is it possible that you can make it later or could you just point the way where to look at for the solution? And yes, I tried search and Google, I found out that it's related somehow to MAC address.

Thank you for great keylogger! :)

edit: I also have suggestion for your logger.

That would be awesome when your victim press for example backspace or tab it would read on the logfile like <backspace> or <tab>!

Cheers.

Meth - March 23, 2011, 4:53 pm

Just did some more testing on the VM. Reinstalled FF 3.6.x and it keylogged it fine. Went back to 4.x and it shows the error again.

So yes, definitely FF 4.x breaking the logger and causing the error. Sucks so bad, I waited and now thanks to Mozilla, I'm back to waiting again... fml. ???

While we're on the subject; do you think it'd be possible to steal from FF 4.x? I'm not sure how development of stealers work, so what exactly would cause FF 4.x to not work as opposed to FF 3.x (directory change again, something simple, etc.)?

I have yet to look into it but based on the fact it messed up current FF stealer Id assume its a large change. Released a small revision, run the builder to download.

The next large update is going to be a remote control panel

Rather then having predefined features enabled you will be able to send commands to a victim via a php panel.

Updating tonight with a working rsbot decrypter.

I don't like RS nor is it even allowed here so don't expect it quite honestly.

jorjus - March 24, 2011, 12:27 am

I don't like it myself I just find it to be the best way to profit from keyloggers as I would never steal from someone's paypal but stealing from someone's RS account then selling the gp's is much safer :)

No, its not a scantime FUD.

AVG and KAS both have behavioural AVs, that doesnt mean everyone has there behavioural AVs though.

There still realtively new so people still use the normal AVG etc.

Perfect timing for the rsbot decrypter, I just got one that I need to be decrypted.

Meth - March 25, 2011, 8:30 pm

It wont decrypt current RSBot.inis... It needs to be decrypted on there computer.

Hydrogen Fluoride - March 25, 2011, 8:31 pm

Will the decrypter be able to decrypt any rsbot password codes, or will you need to have infected the person with cool logger and X option turned on?

Meth - March 25, 2011, 8:33 pm

My post before yours should answer your question.

vulge - March 25, 2011, 8:36 pm

Aw damn, I'd been saving my RSBot.ini's, I have 25 so far :P But that's still fine. What about if we infect ourself with the RSBot.ini's?

Meth - March 25, 2011, 8:47 pm

No, there encrypted with the users MAC address, so unless you get that they're useless.

RileyRandom - March 25, 2011, 8:52 pm

Little bit of precum action going on at the moment. Can't wait for that.

Also, its probably early to ask, but consider IE9 stealer support in the future after you get FTP, FF4 & Behavioral in there.

Looking forward to FF4 support.

-edit-

Just thought of one other small thing you could add in to make my server look even more legitimate - the ability to add in the version in the assembly. File & Product version to be exact. I don't know if thats really a tough thing to add, but I don't think it is... if you can, that'd just be a nice addition to this already amazingly powerful logger.

Just a heads up, I think there's an issue with the "Melt" option. I had this option checked when I set up my server from the start and it worked, but I think one of the newer updates may have bugged it, because I was testing it and it wouldn't work with it checked, but as soon as I unchecked it, logs came flowing back in again. :) I'm loving this logger though.

Melt works fine for me, there was an issue with it in 3.0.0.1

Make sure you're using 3.0.1.1

Before releasing 3.0.1.1 I tested it with every option enabled, it ran fine.

Also Before anymore people tell me as if I dont know it's currently 1/33 (Avira) I will be refuding it soon.

Glad to hear it's all going well guys. Try to limit the RS discussion though;)

erikb93 - March 26, 2011, 9:03 pm

Ok I read like all 30 last posts and will buy soon. But I was wondering what email provider or whats the best place to send logs to? I have used other keyloggers but... hotmail has a spam verification number every 3hrs, gmail just shuts accounts down.. What should we use is my main concern before buying. Maybe some hosting thing that dosent get flagged as spam or whatever?

And.. even though you hate RS I dont see why adding an options like getting bank pins or some thing to the CooLogger because half* your buyers only use it for RS accounts.

Also before I buy does it need to be encrypted? I am not the biggest pro with keyloggers but I have been looking around dozens of threads but have not yet found enough info on crypting

- Thanks, Erik

Meth - March 26, 2011, 9:05 pm

1. I dont know. Setup your own smtp or use a diffrent email..theres only like 43958495743895734987543 email providers out there but everyone seems to like sucking hotmail and gmails dick even though theres tons of other options.

2. What?

3. Its already encrypted..

erikb93 - March 26, 2011, 9:32 pm

(Mar 26, 2011 09:05 PM)Meth Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) 2. What?

Since hijacking RS accounts is a big thing for Half CooLogger users.. RS accounts have 4 digit Bank pins that are clicked on the screen. Would it be possible to get these 4 digits? Maybe trough some java cached files?

TheEnd-cR - March 26, 2011, 9:39 pm

Serious issue; I don't know how often this occurs, but I saw this in one of my logs with screenshots.

Don't know how to reproduce that either... you may want to look into that. I don't know how many victims have had that pop up, but I definitely don't want them to see that... ?

Meth - March 26, 2011, 9:49 pm

That's not from my keylogger, thats from another virus.

1. My keylogger doesn't produce an error when it fails to send it just continues running as it's in a try/catch statement.

2. Be logical, read the error "Failed to send mail" if it failed to send you wouldn't have an email of that screenshot now would you.

So in other words no there's no 'serious problem' with the logger.

KontrolFreek - March 26, 2011, 10:13 pm

Correction, received it on two logs from two different people... it could be a coincidence. You did make a pretty obvious point though. ???

However, if it's another virus on their computer, and the botkiller is enabled, how would that happen?

Botkiller won't take effect until restart. I'll take a look to be sure though.

Also if you're still receiving logs from them after you saw that screenshot I'm very confident it's not mine. Most people instinctively click quit, which would kill the keylogger.

I also haven't seen it in any of my screenshots.

Hotmail blocks extremely quick. Best off setting your intervals higher or finding a better SMTP server.

Hey Meth, new to using this logger and i got a RSBot steal, in what way is the pw encrypted? D:

You can't decrypt the password on your own. The new version decrypts.

All right me and a friend tested on Windows 7

Just ran one server I sent him it didnt close his steam and some of the keylogs were jumbled and missing letters.

Just thought i'd let you know but gettting the saved chrome/IE/Mozilla info worked lol

Tombac - March 28, 2011, 2:31 pm

Vouch for this logger!

It's working at a very nice dowload/infection rate.

Could you add a password decrypter for the data.db files by any chance? ;$

Anyways it's the best logger I've ever used, better than The Bypass, Dreamcatcher and XYZ.

Meth - March 28, 2011, 2:36 pm

As I said, generally if you are getting scrambled logs it occurs if you have multiple servers running on yourself. Make sure that is not the case, it is a rather rare event.

Also as for the steam not closing Ill certainly take a look, you can always use the killprocess at start option and type "steam"

I'm going to be setting up a test email later where people can go in and look at logs (I'll just buy some installs) to see how it functions. Granted some faggot will change the password at some point but oh well.

I just checked I didnt see any servers running on me and i did a test one w/ just steam stealer check and tried it and it didnt close steam then i tried another w/ just kill process Steam and still didnt close it. Just letting you know.

Dammit my thread is to the point it's not showing new replys QQ

Oops make sure you put "Steam" not steam with a lowecase. Case does matter, I just tried it and it killed it fine for me. As for the logs just spread it, I assure you, you wont have a problem.

I have access to one of my customers email he uses for coologger and I have yet to see any jumbled logs, Nor have I really heard of it being an issue.

Edit:

Just looked into the steam stealer, it was a fault on my end. Just a minor fix. will be part of my next update Although the killprocess works fine for steam. As I said above type "Steam" (Case sensitive) and it should kill it no problem.

Y/N on my question? Er, well, not yes or no but you know what I mean the passwords are encrypted using the victims hardware id and you cant get that unless ur on their computer so u need to use the newest updated version. any encrypted passwords u have right now are useless.

I'm working on it but don't expect it to soon.

Can you make it so it deletes their cache and each log has a stealer too? So if they have new saved passwords I can see it?

Keylogger isn't 100% fud anymore. its 3/33 on the site that he recommended to use.

I'm aware and will be ReFUDing it later today or tommorow

<http://my-avscan.com/result.php?scan=NTcwMg==>

How often does this become not-fud anymore? And does it really decrypt rsbot passwords? IF so ill buy it tomorrow.

Why the fuck would I put that it decrypts Rsb0t unless it actually does.

And there's no way to predict how long a FUD will last there's way to many variables.

Is there a way to get around nexus data.db file passwords?

does your stealer steal every user name and password from firefox that is before firefox 4.0 correct?

Yes any version of FF before 4.0

After trying it, I rate this 9/10. It's a great logger and totally worth the $35. The only thing that could be improved are the logs (they're very messy).

I fail to see how they are messy, unless you have show window titles off. You can only make text email logs so clean.

Many loggers end up

Fair enough but people as yourself, that have such large products, I'm assuming from thread size, have a large amount of sales, therefore it becomes UNFUD similar to a public keylogger or crypter. Obviously I don't expect updates everyday, but when paying $35 for a keylogger, I at least expect it FUD most of the time.

Meth - March 29, 2011, 11:54 pm

1. It has options that you're not going to find on a public keylogger.
2. Even in a unfud state you can't compare it to a public keylogger as it is coded far better. Generally public keyloggers are all based off free public sources.
3. I've kept it FUD for the majority of the time for a month now. Things become unfud, and it takes time to refud I dont just wave a wand.

And precisely this is a large product but you have to take into consideration i'm a one man team, and everything is done by me so I need some patience on my customers end as well. It's not as if I'm going to leave it unfud

Unfud = less sales and 3/33 isnt that bad (especially since 2 of those are hardly used) it won't kill you while waiting for a refud.

Senapi - March 30, 2011, 12:50 am

N0v4_pk3r - March 30, 2011, 1:28 am

I agree with meth on this one, there is no point in hassling meth for updates. he keeps on top of almost all or all of the errors found with his program. Ive been a customer for the last 2 months and i have no complaints. Let meth do his own job without getting hassled. DO this and you wont slow him down and that will benefit us all. As he said hes a one man team, so try and understand it from his angle.

kay sorry clearly its my internets fault, just kinda weird this didnt happen at all when i used the earlier versions of ur keylogger. just so happens to have started to error when you secured the hwid stuff more. so i guess it can be a combination of ur update and my internet, since u said urself im not the only one with this problem.

Zeh - March 30, 2011, 2:58 pm

Just bringing this up...

I don't always get the RSBot password...Example:

Username: aznboiiii

Password:

Pin: 4416

Idk if it's something with the settings or RSBot updated their code.

Another issue is some of the passwords are invalid (I'm guessing they updated their password on the RS site, but didn't on RSBot.)

Could you also look in to adding an Epicbot stealer? It's also another popular botting client.

Meth - March 30, 2011, 3:02 pm

No it's because not everyone stores a password in Rsbob matter of fact many people don't due to the whole incident with powerbot.

TheEnd-cR - March 30, 2011, 6:35 pm

I'm trying to set this up on my server with CL, and its just not working.

My server supports...

Supported Incoming Mail Protocols: POP3, POP3S (SSL/TLS), IMAP, IMAPS (SSL/TLS)

Supported Outgoing Mail Protocols: SMTP, SMTPS (SSL/TLS)

I've set it as "mail.c0dereality.com" in CL but I always get authentication failed. I've asked my host for support for setting up email and whatnot, but I honestly am not exactly sure how to approach them to ask the question... since I am of course doing this with CL.

Any pointers for setting up CL to work with my own server? I'm just using cPanel with the default mail stuff already installed on it (IonCube/SquirrelMail).

Meth - March 30, 2011, 11:40 pm

I'll be quite honest I tried setting up a server and it failed aswell, I was able to install squirrelmail on my server but the smtp part itself mindfucked me.

Lemme know if you're ever able to figure it out.

Misoxeny - March 31, 2011, 3:58 am

Love this program so far, best keylogger/stealer out there. Only problem for me is Gmail either locking my acc for 24 hours or I exceed the sending limit. I'm thinking about getting my own server, but if it doesn't work for you guys it probably won't for me either.

Just failing the decryption im guessing, i get them sometimes aswell.

guiltygearz - March 31, 2011, 6:29 am yeah the mail sending from gmail sucks hehe.

@meth

is it possible for you to add a feature in which you can send to another email?
instead of sending to yourself. for example your gmail sending to your smtp email(i cant setup my smtp server too hehe) ive seen this feature in another logger before.

i think you need the authentication on feature of smtp in order for squirrelmail to work.

to all that are having problems with g mail ill suggest to you what i do.

i only get about 20 infections on 1 g mail account then i make a new one.

this way i dont go over my sending limit per day(at logs sent once an hour) making g mail accounts is very fast and easy just as making a new server.exe file is :)

When there is an update, you will have to run CoolLogger and it will ask you where you want to save the update. It will then save the update as a .rar, you unpack that and your new update CoolLogger is there, run that and create a new server.

To all the people who are complaining that this is taking too long for an update:

Develop your own keylogger.

This is taking longer then expected because of fa kids who cracked the keylogger, if it wasn't cracked, then it could have been released a while ago, but since it is, Meth has to make a new authorization system.

As Meth said earlier in this thread, it is already reFUD, all he has to do is get a new Authorization System developed and then he can release it.

I'm going to make this simple

I'm not replying to any PMs I have over 20. I will reply to them all when I'm done with the update

It's currently 2/33 (Avira & kaspersky)

Its been rewritten in C# And is HIGHLY protected. It won't get cracked. Contra (Owner of recoders) made the new auth system along with a bit of help from Eax another amazing cracker. He's also going to be working on it with me adding some badass features.

And to all you dumbfucks HARHAR it got cracked UR HWID SYSTEM DIDNT HALP - Clearly it did because morons like you couldn't crack it.

What's the big difference? C# and VB.

.Astro - April 4, 2011, 8:58 pm

C# doesn't need dependencies, or as I've seen.

Anyways, good luck Meth.

How much is needed for paying Contra to protect program(s)?

I feel youre one of the people who need to read this

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=1159855>

I have yet to get a single log that hasn't performed as it should have.

Rofl doesn't send good keylogs? You're probably one of the geniuses that dont check "Show window titles" Then come on my thread "LUL LOGS R SO SLOPPY IT DOESNT SHOW DA WINDOW DEY TYPE IIN!!!"

Seeing as the majority of people who buy this use it for RS I only get constant people telling me how much they have made from it, seeing as youre complaining about an error in gmail not sending, that shows me right there you don't know what you're doing.

guiltygearz - April 6, 2011, 7:36 am

@afracrank

i think there is a problem with that smtp setting. i own 3 different smtp from 3 different domain hosting provider and they all dont work because you need that authentication setting. otherwise youll get invalid certificate error.

afracrank - April 6, 2011, 7:40 am

We know the people who cracked it. Meth has paid them to make a un-crackable auth system for it and also has made a deal with the crackers so they will not crack it again. Meth hasnt been on any other forums neither so he must be busy irl just give him time.

Chill out guys, Meth has been working on CoolLogger for almost 2 years now, he's not gunna bail out on it that easily.

Updates will be coming soon, don't worry about it.

Thankyou for evaluating CodeVeil.

This assembly was protected by evaluation version of CodeVeil , get the licensed copy of CodeVeil.

anyone knows what is that ?

any help would be highly appricaited

You will have recieved an email, check your junk/spam though. It contains a download link from which you download it, and from there you send the HID on it him in PM/E-mail I believe.

I checked my PayPal's E-mail and it asked me to confirm my purchase through Plimus. I used a separate E-mail address and it asked me to confirm. When I did confirm, I checked my PayPal and other E-mail, and I never received the download link.

Waiting for the update! Come back soon, Meth!

Meth - April 8, 2011, 3:18 pm

Alright guys here's the current situation, I'm just going to make the deadline of the update the 11th of this month.

I had my computer take a shit so I just got my new one late yesterday and am going to be doing work on coollogger today.

It's possible it will be before my deadline but the 11th at the latest

To the people saying they didnt get the email, you have to wait for plimus to approve your payment.

Also to anyone who needs there hwid activated who bought it via plimus please email me, I have 48 pms currently. I cant be bothered going through them all right now

chrolode - April 8, 2011, 3:24 pm

If you'd read through the last couple pages, you'd know that Meth said that the update will be on Monday by the latest.

Deep3rs - April 9, 2011, 9:41 am

This has been quite nicely reversed!

We can gain your Gmail and Password, .Net is never the best way to go.

We were having fun looking through YouTube finding Keyloggers now have some really good accounts, you can reverse any .NET module keylogger. If you get any infected .exe, etc. Send it to me and I'll get their information just make sure it's a .NET module.

The program is getting detected by ALOT of Ant-Viruses hopefully this next update will fix this (I'm sure it will) as you did state each update to keep this fully FUD.

Well I can say customer support is next to shit at the moment. I purchased this 3 days ago, 4 in 32 minutes, and I've YET to be activated and able to 'register' [still nags me about invalid paypal email]. I've sent live support 3 emails, and I've PM'd him twice, so its not as if I haven't done my part. If this thing doesn't work by monday, I will be getting my money back. Which sucks, I really wanted to use this program =/. I really hope he activates it. He activated other people's who bought their copy after I did, so I just don't get why he'd ignore my purchase completely =/ be patiente... if you readed the last couple of topics you knew, and plus, you can't do nothing now, just wait, deal with it i bouth the program like 1 week ago and just tryed 2 times, i want the program, like you, but just wait..

N0v4_pk3r - April 10, 2011, 6:08 am

Let me sum up what experience of coollogger is and maybe just maybe you will understand that patience will go a longer way than being impatient.

Been a customer of this product for almost 6-7 weeks. the first 5-6 weeks were amazing. meth was constantly on and always keeping on top of things. i had no complaints. after the 5-6 weeks. Meth came out publicly and said That the logger was being cracked. and he was suffering irl problems. So i understood and gave him time to make changes happen.

The irl issues and the fact that he was recruiting someone for his new crew too made things alot more difficult for him to adapt too. So as a dedicated customer i would just keep quiet and let him do his job. Tbh in my opinion Coollogger is 10x better than XYZ.

The update will be great and all the problems will be fixed. PLUS the update is today as meth said. So just wait another 24 hours. tell your victims your on holiday or something. and if meth doesnt come through with it then i can understand the impatency.

ADVICE GIVE HIM ONE MORE DAY HE WILL CME THROUGH LIKE ALWAYS.

Someone is either in a pissy mood, or is trying to get on Meth's good side. I only keep asking because I have been scammed countless times, and the way this looks to a new customer isn't all that good. I'm willing to trust 175 pages of replies, but I did the same thing before [maybe not 175 pages, but ;p] and I lost a good $60. Money is hard for me to come by as is, so I'm just really hoping this isn't another one of those "Well, something happened." or "I don't see your purchase." or something like that =/.

don't tell me this is just a weird language, most of my logs, from people all over te world are like this

Seriously please hurry up with that update cause I ain't logging shit at the moment, though I loved the logger before

I also sometimes get logs vaguely similar to this, for example, this was the last line of one log:

Code h shoul Idor ecausoair,l rmalonyrch and the screenshot at the end of the log (now cropped) showed this:

You can see that the above last line is actually the last "To:" message on there, and that it has missed out random characters :/.

Please fix when you can :)

Aparently from what Meth has told me the scrambling occurs from when multiple keyloggers are activated on the users system and running.

I have used many free keyloggers, and victims have had nearly 10+ keyloggers running on one system, yet the logs still came clean. I'm unsure if this keylogger uses different methods compared to other keyloggers, but the loggs being scrambled defeats the primary use of a keylogger, and if loggs are scrambled, it completely eliminates spreading through youtube or other places that people are likely to download other keyloggers.

I would like to ask Meth if this is fixable, and if so how difficult is the fix? - If the keylogger needs a whole revamp then it's not really a problem and you shouldn't update but if it only requires a few small changes, then please implement these on the next update.

I have used it, if you actually read what i said, some people just got it for free.

Im boldly stating, another website or team has taken over the project of decoding this. google search it and you'll find out, alot of people and even Meth because his new Auth system is being re-written by the people who decoded it.

But as mentioned its being relased elsewhere and bypassing the codeveil thing is pretty easy, just change your date back to march.

mayoman - April 11, 2011, 8:04 am

I paid £22 for this, or around that.

Worth every penny, ive already made my money back + profit.

Looking forward to this update, even though my keylogger is working flawlessly atm.

Another small bug is that when using with gmail about every 1 in 10 of the logs fails to send because of it's anti-spam or whatever and so after about 6 hours of use gmail automatically blocks my account for another 24hours for spam. If there is any log or error report you may need to fix this, please ask.

Noob out.

EDIT: Started recieving logs at 3:55pm and was blocked at 6:01pm. Thats a bit over 2 hours. :/

Yeah, he disappeared cause he is clearly having some personal life problems and has not made it back to HF to tend to the barracade of PM's i'm sure he has, or the 15 pages of people bitching in his thread, but that does not mean he's gone forever.

Everyone needs to chill the fuck out and just be patient. You can't do anything else but wait and hope for the best.

Irion - April 12, 2011, 11:43 pm

So... What's stopping you from opening scam reports? I mean he's still taking payments when he doesn't even deliver the product, he has let every of his customers down, and pop into this thread, read the last 5 pages and all I see is people complaining about this crappy software. Didn't he give a deadline? Did he respect it?

I don't understand sometimes a scam report is opened for $5 and there he's proper rubbing you selling his non-working thing and not even delivering it and all he has to do to avoid the chargebacks & scam reports is to stay away from HF and say he has personnal issues? I think he just can't fix this and not closing Plimus until he steals the last penny from you...

If it was me he'd already have a scam report and I would have chargedback Plimus the day the deadline wasn't respected!

Yes, thats true, but not at the moment. You can't just blindly make a post in a thread and vouch for something that isn't what you say it is. Currently, CooLogger is not FUD, and it is not working for most due to the CodeVeil issue (which can be temporarily bypassed by setting your date back, but most customers probably aren't aware of that workaround).

Hasn't been FUD for around 2-3+ weeks as far as I know.

the question is if his account still has balance or source of funding if you dispute it.
and also i think the reason why people use plimus is to lessen the chargeback?

This should be mass disputed... I can't believe you're all still waiting here when the dispute section is filled with "BlaBla stole $3.45 from me".. This is serious, he's obviously mass scamming, protected with Plimus and everyone seems fine with it?!

The worse is that he's still taking orders. And this was stickied like 2 days ago wasn't it?! Damn guys, you got $35 stolen from you and what are you going to do? Nothing?!

Well not only. But mainly yes. Well, using a third party means they handle all the hassle, disputes includes. And charging Plimus back makes it harder to win than disputing with an individual. So yeah, in his case he basically used it to prevent people from charging back. He knew he'll quit certainly.

And check his profile, he joined 1 year ago and spent 2 months full on HF already (out of 12...). And all of a sudden he's gone? Weird don't you think.

I'm really not a fire starter usually, on the contrary. But I feel seriously ashamed of what he's doing (not to mention he must have copy/pasted most of his code, I'll have a look at it by the way)... So yeah, guys, mass charge back on his Plimus account, even if you loose at least you've tried. And fill up some scam reports on HF. Otherwise what? He'll come back in 2 weeks, pretending his grand mother died or something like that, everyone will feel sorry for him, and when this piece of crap if out of everyone's mind he'll start again... I've seen it happening, don't get fooled like many others (even if it's kinda late now)...

Calm yourselves down. If you really wanted this keylogger you'd wait patiently.

If you can't wait a week or so for -

FUD-ness

RSbot + Nexus Stealer

Pro keylogger

And all the other great options this keylogger has, then why'd you even bother buying it.

Why don't you go see how "fun" it is re-FUD'ing sources and making sure they work properly.

X???????????????? - April 18, 2011, 3:07 pm

I lost all of my faith in him. I don't mean to be rude but we as the loyal buyers should have a priority over his personal issues. Furthermost we deserve what we gave our money for. We don't deserve to be required to wait for the seller to provide his half of the bargain. It is his fault we have no access to the product and it should be his responsibility to get that straightened out as soon as possible (with priority over almost anything else). Please correct me if I am wrong about anything stated above. I will gladly close my paypal claim once my access to the logger is re-instated. Also to whoever asked before if you can dispute something a second time, Yes you can. You need to call paypal however. The wait time is usually around 2 - 10 minutes.

I bet hes making up this bullshit.

It hasn't been working for a super long time now.

I regret buying this 101%

KingKj52 - April 18, 2011, 9:59 pm

I'm not escalating it to a claim or anything yet. I bought this BECAUSE I really want to use it. I don't have a job yet, so spending $40 I happened to get in PayPal, at the moment, is quite a large sum of cash to me, and, as I can see you say you have personal problems, and you expect us to be respectful of that, I expect the same amount of respect in return. There is absolutely no wrong in holding on to a, sort of, leash, on the money I am giving you, until the product is received as intended. When I purchased this, I had expected near instant activation [at the most, a day or two] and so here I am, just waiting patiently. Some may dispute that, saying it was impatient because I did initiate a dispute, but, again, its just me keeping my hand on my money I worked hard to get while I await the arrival of the program I ordered. If I can do that, and not initiate a claim on this, I feel as if you OWE me the same respect, and should understand my viewpoint, being a first-time buyer on HF, and a completely new buyer overall in online blackhat products, and a first time deal with you, with it hard in this economy as is. So, whenever auto-activation, or, this update, is released, and some people say your back to doing what you already promised me, in my purchase, to do, I will GLADLY stop the dispute [which I can not open anymore, by the way] and be contempt with the product being received. I obviously want the product if I bought it with the little money I had, so, again, I'd expect the same respect you demand of me. Especially saying "Anyone who charged back will be deactivated." .. when all I want IS to be activated. Then I don't mind when you update, so long as I know for sure you haven't just rubbed my purchase off as pointless and left it there on the side. Thank you for your understanding, if you do understand my point. Again, please remember, this is a simple first-time purchase for me here, and after emailing and PM'ing you several times about activation, to see you disappear, to a buyer like me, it does not look too great. So excuse me if I took it a step too far by opening a dispute. I will gladly close it whenever the update is done or whenever we can talk one on one about this predicament. Thank you. Let's see how well support is ;] all customers should do a massive chargeback. then just buy again when he release a new one that is if he does lol.

he is always online yet he doesnt update his customers.

Igzz - April 22, 2011, 5:33 am

I was probably one of the only people who supported meth through this whole time.

I have charged back 2 days ago, waiting for his reply, hopefully I win.

RileyRandom - April 22, 2011, 11:59 am

Disregard this.

Too short.

ihackyou11 - April 22, 2011, 12:35 pm

Charging back everyone should to, i dont think it takes two weeks to get online and tell your customers whats going on with the keylogger....

I agree with you, and you're actually only supposed to act as if you're atleast 13.

But the reason everybody is bugging him is because he hasn't updated us on anything in like 3 weeks except saying "I'm working on it" and not logging onto the forums for a week after saying that.

guiltygearz - April 22, 2011, 9:22 pm also he logs to his msn and other forums but doesnt reply.

thats a sign that he doesnt care about his customers and possibly doesnt want to update in the near future.

maybe he plans to update but after several months.

SexyWolf - April 22, 2011, 9:39 pm

Charged him back, everyone should do it..

Don't wait for this shit guys and buy PREDATOR PAIN LOGGER working and 100% FUD

Alright, so I got an update from Meth. Turns out hes a pretty chill guy.

Anyway he says hes still working on it, but hes just running into a few problems that are making the update behind schedule. So stop crying about it being a scam or that he quit. Its just taking time. Just hold on and there will be an update.

we already know that he is working on it 3wks ago.

the problem is till now aside that "he is still working on it" he is still have not given a definite date or maybe at least a time frame.

he will work on it for how long? 1 month, 1year, 1 decade? still no answer lol.

besides as someone already pointed out that meth already has a paid software before that he said he will continue but up to this day did not.

for short he already has a record of not continuing support for a software that he sells lol.

Do you know how much Meth has just lost ?

He have lost half of his customer and he made 2K $ with it round and half of them has charged back = he lost 1k$ and thats ur pocket money ? no its not.

Think in this way:

Your out with ur friends and u sell them a game.

You sell it for 35$ ea to 20 persons.

The game stops working and ur friends take their money back.

You lose 700$.

Your friends get their "pocket" money as you say and buy a better game that wont stop work and when it stops work they take their money back again and keep countinue.

im not going to charge back now but if he dosent answer in 2 weeks more i will charge back.

I don't think Meth would do such a thing, however right now there are a lot of bad factors happening that aren't in his favor. Girlfriend dumped him, his logger was cracked, now people are charging back & accusing him of scamming, his laptop died, probably getting rep-fucked right now... world of hurt for em', and I feel his pain.

I'm personally not charging back because I think he'll pull through, hopefully. That and I passed the 45 day mark a long time ago.

I dont care because, i paid that amount of money, and it was totally worth it. I've been using it until it became detected. Why would i charge back while i've been using it .. so ill just wait i've got nothing to lose.

guiltygearz - April 26, 2011, 4:41 am

if he is indeed away or busy then why on earth is he still accepting payments? why not close it? since he is still accepting payments and cant activate new customers then this should also fall under scamming lol.

migasangelo - April 26, 2011, 9:52 am jorjus - April 26, 2011, 1:19 pm

I would say to anyone that didnt even get activated go ahead and charge back but anyone that used the logger and is charging back thats like going to a resteraunt eating ur food and asking for a refund because they messed up on something.
