Thread: Uh oh

Sparky - January 16, 2011, 12:14 am

Staff section, Junk section, and all private groups threads are visible to everyone.

wisd0m - January 16, 2011, 12:16 am

Yeah we know, so stop letting everyone else know.

Strik9 - January 16, 2011, 12:16 am

I am sure that this will be fixed soon.

Androctonus - January 16, 2011, 12:16 am

That's not good. Someone linked me to the staff section but I left instantly. It's honestly none of my business so I'm staying out of it.

PlaySkool - January 16, 2011, 12:17 am

Damn it I PMed this to omni just before all these threads show up. Hope he doesn't think i was reporting old news...

Same here, it's tempting but I'm not going to do it.

I suddenly lost all desire to join the HF Coders group. It looks pretty dull.

Xerotic - January 16, 2011, 12:20 am

Its fixed guys. I PM'ed Omni about 10 minutes ago (as well as others) and he resolved it

Tate - January 16, 2011, 12:21 am

I got my hopes up when I could see the reviewers group. I spent 30 seconds looking over my usercp to see if I was in the group. Then I came to the realization that I would never amount to anything. That's when I looked through all the private forums to see if I could find something interesting. I failed to do that.

Sparky - January 16, 2011, 12:21 am

I wonder what happened o.o

Minnesota Nice - January 16, 2011, 12:21 am

Crazy shit happened. It was tempting to snoop around but I didn't want to!

Ag3nt - January 16, 2011, 12:22 am

I read most of the threads inter so I'm happy :p

Omniscient - January 16, 2011, 12:22 am

Yea, I thought I was in one of the other groups too :/

I only looked around in the staff section to see if there was an explanation for this 'mishap'. Didn't care for anything else anyway.

wisd0m - January 16, 2011, 12:24 am

At first when I saw it as a new post, I went wtf? And then Pm'ed Omni, I'm sure he received about 5000 other PM's though.

Omniscient - January 16, 2011, 12:52 am

Priority 1: Fix it

Priority 2: Find cause

Once it was fixed I couldn't find a cause. I can only speculate that the forum permissions datacache was somehow screwed up. There was no admincp changes that set this off. This could be related to some bug with InnoDB and MySQL 5.5 or maybe with my setup somewhere.

If this happens again please PM me asap. Do not post a thread please.

And there isn't that much of a big deal having full forum access. It's not like we spend out time gossiping in staff area. We have better things to do.
